STATEMENT OF NONDISCRIMINATION

The Pennsylvania State University is committed to the policy that all persons shall have equal access to programs, facilities, admission, and employment without regard to personal characteristics not related to ability, performance, or qualifications as determined by University policy or by state or federal authorities. The Pennsylvania State University does not discriminate against any person because of age, ancestry, color, disability or handicap, national origin, race, religious creed, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status. Direct all inquiries regarding the nondiscrimination policy to the Affirmative Action Director, The Pennsylvania State University, 328 Boucke Building, University Park, PA 16802-5901; tel. (814) 863-0471; TDD (814) 865-3175.

A BEAUTIFUL CAMPUS

In a book titled "Ivy League Programs at State School Prices," Penn State is described as one of six public institutions that offers superior educational opportunities comparable to their Ivy League counterparts, but at a lower cost.

Nestled in the Nittany Valley, the Penn State campus has a charm that easily is identified. The CBS Television show "60 Minutes" once described Penn State as the ideal setting for any Hollywood director doing a film on college life.

Penn State was first chartered in 1855 when a faculty of four taught its first students, 11 of whom graduated in 1861. Classes were held in Old Main, which also served as a dormitory. A rebuilt Old Main now is the site of the offices of the University administration, including Dr. Graham Spanier, who became Penn State's 16th president in September, 1995.

While Old Main once was all that existed of Penn State, today it sits in the middle of 4,767 acres that make up the University Park campus. Five-hundred-and-forty acres, which includes more than 12,000 trees, are devoted to classrooms and office buildings, residence halls and laboratories, with more than 300 buildings comprising the main campus.

From Old Main to Mount Nittany...from Pattee Library to the Creamery...from East Halls, West Halls, Nittany Suites, the Palmer Museum of Art or the Bryce Jordan Center, Penn State's campus has a picture postcard look.

A NATIONALLY RESPECTED UNIVERSITY

Penn State Ranks

- Tied for first as the nation's best public institution according to a U.S. News & World Report survey of high school students (2004).
- Tied for fourth nationally among public institutions and 11th overall in a listing of the best universities in the nation according to a 2003 Gallup poll.
- Among the nation's top 16 "Hot Schools," according to the Wall Street Journal (2001).
- One of only 10 NCAA Division I-A institutions to be selected for U.S. News & World Report's 2002 College Sports Honor Roll for athletic and academic achievement.
- 14th among public universities for "America's Best Colleges" according to U.S. News & World Report (2002).
- Among the top 20 best undergraduate engineering and business programs according to U.S. News & World Report (2002).

#1 USA Today rated Penn State as the BEST school in the nation in the graduation of its student-athletes in 1997. In the NCAA's 2004 report, Penn State's four-year graduation rate for student-athletes was 83 percent, tied for first among the nation's Division I-A public institutions.

Morgan Center Mission

Central to the mission of Intercollegiate Athletics is the opportunity for student-athletes to experience a well-rounded educational program at The Pennsylvania State University. The mission of the Morgan Academic Support Center for Student-Athletes is to provide appropriate academic support services and University Faculty Senate, NCAA, and Big Ten Conference academic eligibility information to all student-athletes. These services and information should assist student-athletes in achieving their academic goals while participating in a demanding NCAA Division I intercollegiate athletic program. These services should also ensure progress toward graduation through timely completion of degree requirements for baccalaureate and graduate programs.

Academic Counseling

Student-athletes are assigned individual counselors who provide them with advice on academics, academic planning, and career choices, as well as keeping them informed about NCAA, Big Ten and Penn State regulations that may affect them.

Sports Psychology - Getting Focused

A sport psychologist provides counseling and support to student-athletes in the areas of mental preparation strategies for training and competition, motivation and meaningful goal setting, visualization and performance planning, concentration and mental focusing, coping skill strategies for dealing with adversity, and, in general, issues pertaining to self-esteem development and student-athlete welfare.

Nagle CHAMPS / Life Skills Program

1998 NCAA Program of Excellence Award Winner

The Nagle CHAMPS (Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success)/Life Skills Program has been a model program and a consulting resource for the NCAA since its inception in 1989. The Life Skills Program was developed to better prepare student-athletes for the challenges of life beyond the athletic arena.

Speakers Bureau

The Speaker's Bureau Program provides Penn State student-athletes with the opportunity to develop and utilize public presentation skills while giving back to the community.

Penn Pal Program - Keeping in Touch

The "Penn" Pal Program enables student-athletes to correspond, on a monthly basis, with fourth-, fifth-, and sixth-grade students in local school districts.

Shadow Program

The goal of the program is give elementary and middle school students the opportunity to tour campus, visit college classes, and interact with student-athletes on a one-to-one basis.

THON

Dance Marathon, often referred to as THON, is the largest student-run philanthropy in the nation, raising more than $34 million for the Four Diamonds Fund and children's cancer research.

SAAB

The Student-Athlete Advisory Board (SAAB) consists of one voting member and one or more alternates from each of Penn State's 29 varsity athletic teams. SAAB meets monthly to discuss any new developments within the NCAA, Big Ten Conference, and the University that affect the student-athletes at Penn State.

Morgan Center Programs and Functions:

Career Development: Preparing For the Future

This Program offers a variety of services to aid student-athletes in making decisions regarding their choice of major, resumé and cover letter writing, career planning, and gaining professional employment.

Study Enhancement: Preparing for Class

Study enhancement sessions are mandatory for all first-year student-athletes and are available to upperclassmen as well.

Tutoring Program - A Helping Hand

The Morgan Academic Support Center offers free tutoring assistance to all student-athletes.

Mentor Program

The MASCSA Mentor Program is designed to help student-athletes on their road to success by assisting in the development of transferable study skills.

Athletic Honor Society

The Athletic Honor Society, Spiritus Leonius, recognizes student-athletes for outstanding performance in athletics, academics, leadership, and community service.

Players rotate in a clockwise direction and serve when they are in the right back position. The libero (wearing a different color jersey) may take the place of any of the three backrow players and does not count as a team substitution.

Position Breakdown:

MH: Middle hitter, generally attacks from middle front
Opp.: Opposite or right side hitter, generally attacks from the right front
DS: Defensive Specialist, a substitution in the backrow for serving, passing and defensive purposes
S: Setter, generally handles the second contact to distribute the ball to the hitters, may only attack and block when in the front row
L: Libero, a backrow player concentrated on passing and defense; may serve; may not attack the ball above the height of the net; wears a different colored jersey to help distinguish "on-the-fly" entry into the game.

2005 SCHEDULE

SCHEDULE NOTES

• The Nittany Lions open up the season at the AVCA/NACWAA College Volleyball Showcase at the Qwest Center in Omaha, Neb. The tournament features powerhouses Stanford, Nebraska and Hawaii, with Penn State facing the defending national champion Cardinal on Aug. 26 and either the Cornhuskers or Wahine on Aug. 27.

Penn State remains on the road for the next two weekends, participating in the Hawaiian Airlines Classic on Aug. 31-Sept. 2 in Honolulu with matches against Southern California, Western Michigan and Hawaii, and then returns to Nebraska to the Players Challenge on Sept. 9-11 to take on Pepperdine, Nebraska and Pacific in Lincoln, Neb. Penn State returns home to host Seton Hall, Penn and Marshall in the Penn State Classic on Sept. 16-17 at Rec Hall.

• Penn State holds a 293-73 (.801) record over opponents it will face during the 2005 regular season, including an impressive 239-41 (.854) against current Big Ten foes since joining the conference for the 1991 season. Against non-conference opponents, the Nittany Lions lead 24-20 (.545).

• The 2005 slate features two first-time meetings in women's volleyball, as the Nittany Lions will take on Pepperdine and Marshall to begin the series history.

• Five of Penn State's 20 opponents have yet to record a win over the Lions, including Hawaii (0-1), Indiana (0-30), Iowa (0-28), Pennsylvania (0-6) Seton Hall (0-1). The Lions have a combined 66-0 record versus these teams.

• Matches against 11 teams that competed in the 2004 NCAA Tournament, including six that finished ranked in the top eight in the country, highlight the schedule. From the final poll by the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA), No. 7 Penn State will play national champion Stanford, Minnesota (No. 2), Southern California (No. 4), Nebraska (No. 5), Ohio State (No. 6) and Hawaii (No. 8) along with No. 14 Wisconsin and Purdue, who received votes in the poll. The Nittany Lions will also square off against NCAA Tournament participants Illinois, Michigan and Pacific.

There is a phrase on the minds of all 18 members of the Penn State women's volleyball team. It is uttered in their workouts and lifting sessions and written in their preseason expectations. "Win a Big Ten and National Championship." That is the goal for the 2005 squad, and with highly-touted freshmen and five starters returning from a team that won their second consecutive Big Ten title, finishing 29-3, and a 2005 schedule that ranks among the hardest in the country, that goal is within reach.

"There are a lot of paths to get where you want to be at the end of the season, I don't think there's only one way," said head coach Russ Rose, who will be entering his 27th year in Happy Valley. "We've had success in a variety of ways and this one is maybe the most unique in that we're playing every national champion since we won it in 1999."

This year's squad is experienced yet youthful, returning three seniors, three juniors, four sophomores and eight freshmen. Penn State will be counting on this youth to replace the three seniors lost to graduation from a year ago. Tabitha Eshleman, Syndie Nadeau and Ashley Pederson all made significant contributions to the squad both on and off the court. Rose and his staff of Mike Schall and Kevin Starns will look to take the team to a place none of its current members have ever been: the National Championship.

OUTSIDE HITTER

Two of the three seniors lost to graduation last year, Nadeau and Pederson, laid claim to this position for the last several years.

"We lost two of our starting three outside hitters to graduation who both signed contracts to play professionally in Europe," said Rose. "That in itself signifies how valuable they were not only to our program but how marketable they might be at the next level."

Returning to the outside is reigning Big Ten Freshman of the Year Kate Price who played in all 32 matches last season, leading the squad with 3.93 kills per game. She was the only non-junior or –senior to rank among the top 10 in the Big Ten in kills per game (3.94) and she ranked fifth in conference-only matches with 4.07 kills per game. She posted her career-high 28 kills just two days after her 18th birthday on the road versus eventual National Champion Stanford and she had double-digit kills in 26 matches.

"Katie learned a great deal last season about college volleyball and my expectations for her are very high," said Rose. "She has played a lot of volleyball and she knows the game very well."

Battling with Price will be talented freshmen Nicole Fawcett and Laura Holloway, who were both the Gatorade Players of the Year in their respective states of Ohio and Illinois last season.

"The physical nature that Nicole Fawcett brings, and the ball-handling skills and experience winning that Laura Holloway has, give us reason to feel good about this position," stated Rose. "As the game has changed you need to be more effective and efficient at the outside hitting position. We'll be able to set the ball high and outside and we'll anticipate some good results."

Fawcett is a two-year member of the U.S. Junior National Team and a three-time first team All-Ohio honoree. She holds the Ohio state record for career kills after setting her Benjamin Logan High School single-season record for kills in each of her four years as a Raider.

Holloway, the Chicago Sun-Times Player of the Year a year ago, led her Barrington High School team to two Illinois state runners-up finishes and was a member of the 2002 and 2003 state championship all-tournament teams. She compiled 1,095 career kills and was a member of the Sports Performance Volleyball Club team that captured the Junior Olympic National Open Championship in both 2004 and 2005.

Also vying for playing time on the outside is junior Ashley Fidler, who has 74 career kills including a career-high 13 against Rhode Island in 2003.

MIDDLE HITTER

Perhaps the biggest battle for playing time will come out of the middle. Redshirt senior Kim Holm, 2003 Big Ten Freshman of the Year Cassy Salyer and NCAA Regional All-Tournament team member Melissa Walbridge bring a wealth of collegiate experience to the position while freshman Christa Harmotto, the Pennsylvania Gatorade Player of the Year and current U.S. Junior National Team member, brings the youthful experience.

"Middle hitter will be a position where we have some depth and it may be a position that will facilitate one of them moving to the right side position, but it's a nice problem to have," said Rose. "The luxury of having Sam [Tortorello], who is an experienced and confident setter, gives me reason to think that the on-court chemistry of the team can be good and we should be competitive out of the middle of the court."

Kim Holm played in 25 matches and averaged 2.00 kills per game on .397 hitting with 1.08 blocks per game. She recorded a season-high 11 kills at Indiana on .625 hitting and posted a season-high six blocks versus Michigan. She recorded at least one block in 20 matches, including 17 multiple-block contests and also tallied 20 multiple-kill matches.

"Kim is an experienced player and she is comfortable and knowledgeable about the competition at this point," said Rose. "I feel she is ready to make a bigger contribution to the success of this team."

Cassy Salyer spent the beginning of last season recovering from stress fractures but still played in all 32 matches and 108 of 109 games, averaging 2.83 kills per game and 1.20 blocks per game. She posted at least five kills on 29 occasions and ranked first on the team with 130 total blocks, including a season-high 10 stuffs at Minnesota and again versus UCLA in the NCAA Tournament Regional Semifinal. Salyer recorded five or more blocks in a match 12 times and also had 81 digs, including a career-high seven in the NCAA first round match against American.

"Cassy has the ability and desire to dominate matches and she is willing to switch positions if necessary to aid the team," stated Rose. "We're expecting big things from Cassy this year. Whether she is playing at the middle or right-side position, she's going to have to come up big offensively and at the net for us."

Melissa Walbridge was a quiet force last season, leading the Big Ten in both hitting percentage and blocks per game. Named to the NCAA Seattle Regional All-Tournament team, she averaged 2.29 kills per game and 1.24 blocks per game, leading the conference in hitting percentage with a .407 mark. She twice posted 10 blocks in a match and twice reached her career high in kills with 15. She attacked at a .300 clip or better in 17 contests and recorded 18 multiple-block contests, including 13 of the last 15 matches.

"I thought Melissa flew under the radar screen of the conference coaches last year," said Rose. "She improved a great deal throughout the season, and she's the type of person every coach would want to have in their program as she works hard, is committed to the welfare of the team and is a marvelous student."

Harmotto, who Rose describes as the most athletic of the middle hitters, led her Hopewell High School to the 2004 Pennsylvania state championship and spent July training and playing with the U.S. Junior National Team in Lake Placid, N.Y,. and Ankara, Turkey. The Pennsylvania Gatorade Player of the Year, Harmotto posted a school-record 186 blocks during her junior campaign and a school-record .595 hitting percentage during her senior season to go along with 448 kills, 376 digs and 172 blocks.

"Christa will have a great career at Penn State because she is a player that feels strongly about competing in Rec Hall," said Rose. "She's strong and quick and that's a great combination for a middle hitter."

SETTER

Returning to direct the Penn State offense for the fourth year in a row is senior Sam Tortorello, an AVCA First Team All-American a year ago.

"Sam has established herself as one of the top setters playing in college volleyball right now," said Rose. "She blocks well, plays good defense and has the ability to lead the team. We'll have a schedule that will allow her to see how she stacks up against some of the other top setters in the country."

Tortorello enters the season ranked fifth in the Penn State annals in career assists with 4,603, just 397 assists from becoming the fourth player in Nittany Lion history to break the 5,000 career assists plateau. She ranks first in career assists per game with 13.34 and her 14.00 assists per game last season sits second on the single-season charts. An all-around player, Tortorello recorded her first career triple-double against Maryland in the second round of the NCAA Tournament with 10 kills, 52 assists and 15 digs. She recorded 16 double-digit dig contests, 25 multiple-block contests and 31 multiple-kill matches, also leading the team in service aces with 30.

Backing up Tortorello will be sophomore Ann Naylor, who last season saw action in six matches, recording five digs.

"Ann will enter the season as our backup setter. She has played a lot of volleyball and is quite comfortable on the court," state Rose. "She is a hardworking young person that always has a big smile available for others."

LIBERO

Entering the season just 273 digs shy of becoming Penn State's career digs leader, senior Kaleena Walters returns to the backcourt for the Nittany Lions.

"The fact that Kaleena was recognized as an all-conference player at that position last year really says something about the kind of player she is," said Rose. "She plays hard, she's durable and she and Sam have taken a very heavy load in trying to lead this team. Kaleena is one of the few players that I would agree to coach for my entire career."

Walters, a First Team All-Big Ten selection last season, set Penn State's single-season digs record with

SEASON OUTLOOK

619, which makes her the first Nittany Lion player in history to record more than 600 digs in a season. Her 44 digs against Minnesota makes her only the third player in Big Ten history to record that number in a match and it also ranks as the highest dig total every recorded by a Penn State player. She holds the single-season digs per game record with 5.68 and she enters the season as the all-time career digs per game leader with 4.10. She posted at least eight digs in 32 matches and recorded double-digit dig figures in 31 of 32 matches, also ranking third on the team in service aces with 22.

DEFENSIVE SPECIALIST

Several players will fill the roles of defensive specialists for the Nittany Lions, each bringing different skills to the table. Juniors Ashley Fidler and Kris Brown, sophomores Maggie Case and Ann Naylor and freshmen Roberta Holehouse, Joanie Guman and Steph Unger will all see time in the defensive and serving positions this season.

"We're going to have a nice collection of players at this position," said Rose. "We'll have some players that can come in and serve aggressively like Kris Brown and Roberta Holehouse and then we'll have some that can play hard, aggressive defense like Steph and Joanie. I have always used this position and I look forward to seeing what we can achieve."

Fidler and Brown combined for 44 digs and six service aces last season while Case and Naylor chipped in 11 digs.

Holehouse comes in possessing a strong jumpserve and quick defensive skills. She led her Christian Home Educators Network (CHEN) team to the 2004 Homeschool National Championship, averaging 4.7 kills per game. Holehouse was also named to the 2004 All-Tournament team at the Junior Olympic Nationals with her Time Out Orange Crush club team.

Guman's Allentown Central Catholic (Pa.) High School squad claimed the 2001 Pennsylvania 3A state title in 2001 and was the state 2A runners-up in both 2002 and 2003.

Unger helped her Lake Catholic (Ohio) High School to an 82-18 record during her four years, picking up third team All-Ohio accolades during her senior season. She was team captain for the Cougars in 2004 and twice earned the Best Defensive Player honor on her squad.

SCHEDULE

Matches against 11 teams that competed in the 2004 NCAA Tournament, including six that finished ranked in the top eight in the country, highlight the 2005 Penn State women's volleyball schedule.

From the final poll by the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA), No. 7 Penn State will play National Champion Stanford, Minnesota (No. 2), Southern California (No. 4), Nebraska (No. 5), Ohio State (No. 6) and Hawaii (No. 8) along with No. 14 Wisconsin and Purdue, who received votes in the poll. The Nittany Lions will also square off against NCAA Tournament participants Illinois, Michigan and Pacific.

"When you take into account that the Big Ten was recognized as the strongest conference in the country last year and for us to schedule three weekends of great competition at the start, we're going to know a lot about the top teams and about our freshmen," said Rose. "Those things will hopefully allow us to have the kind of season that we'd like to have. With an NCAA Regional here at Rec Hall, we're hoping to get ourselves into a position to be playing in that Regional."

Penn State holds a 293-73 (.801) record over opponents it will face during the 2005 regular season, including a 239-41 (.854) Big Ten record since joining the conference for the 1991 season. The slate also features first-time women's volleyball meetings with Pepperdine and Marshall.

"A great deal of effort that went into making the schedule the way we did for this year was to challenge the young players so that they knew what it was like to play the top teams in the country in preparation for what we feel is the most competitive conference in America," continued Rose. "The impact of incoming players will be determined over the next four years and we're going to depend on them a great deal. Whether they can answer the call, that's why you play the season. The schedule is a step up, but I think the fact that the university has put so much into the volleyball program that we should stretch out a little bit and see what we have to offer.

"The Big Ten is always competitive and I don't see this year being any different. One team that you have to expect to see competing nationally is Wisconsin, who has a very strong roster returning. Also, Minnesota and Ohio State who both had great success last season in conference and competing nationally, and a number of programs who have significantly improved their talent base, including Purdue, Illinois and Northwestern. With a new staff at Michigan State, I anticipate there will be positive energy with the change.

"There is never an easy match in the Big Ten. I don't think it makes a difference who the coaches pick to win the conference because I don't think they know, and I feel the same way. I don't know who is going to win the conference. I know everyone will try to win the conference but if you don't play well, you're going to lose. We've had that happen to us both at home and on the road. I don't think you can just say, 'Well, you guys should be really good.' I don't think anyone should just be really good. You'll be as good as you are from how hard you work. The conference has great coaches from schools with pride and tradition in all of their athletic programs."

HEAD COACH RUSS ROSE

Russ Rose

➤ 27th Year at Penn State ➤ Career Record: 828-151
➤ Alma Mater: George Williams, 1975

Heading one of the most successful programs in the country, Russ Rose passes along the confidence and character he has gained during his tenure in Happy Valley.

It is a confidence not gleaned from the shine of numerous trophies and accolades bestowed upon the coach and the program, though no one would question if it was. In 26 seasons at Penn State, Rose has collected wins at a staggering pace. Never having posted less than 22 wins in a season, he earned his 800th career victory at Penn State on Sept. 3, 2004, with a win over Rutgers (only the sixth Division I coach to reach the milestone), has collected eight Big Ten titles in 14 years and has firmly entrenched the Nittany Lions among the elite programs in the nation.

In 2003, Rose celebrated 25 years of coaching at Penn State. He was honored with a bench outside of the post office sponsored by the Penn State Booster Club and surprised with a gathering of more than 40 former players and members of the program, who offered their thoughts and insights on Rose and his career.

"It was my sophomore year when he said 'When you leave this gym, when you finish your career, every day you leave here, you should feel like you gave 110 percent,'" said former player Christy Cochran (1995-98). "And that's exactly it. If you put your career in his hands, you'll be great."

Rose's influence in the lives of his former players is evident. "I truly miss him," said four-time All-American Bonnie Bremner (1996-99). "I don't even miss playing, I just miss seeing him every day."

However, Rose does not reflect on past successes. "Fans can get spoiled very quickly in athletics and that's a problem," Rose said. "It's not easy to be successful in anything and when people get accustomed to specific results, it sometimes loses its effect on the players and they forget what it really takes to succeed and how important the journey really should be to their development."

Instead, Rose addresses each new team and season on its own terms and his confidence lies in the ability and work ethic of his current players and coaching staff.

"I'm not much of a believer in predicting a team's level of success," Rose said. "I can only state that we're going to do our best. If we're good enough to win matches then we're going to win matches, but if we lose it's not going to be because we didn't prepare and work hard and it's not going to be because we rested on our program's previous laurels."

For a good example of this statement, look no further than the 1999 season. Following two consecutive campaigns which saw the Lions reach the title match of the NCAA Tournament only to fall in defeat, the team returned to the NCAA Tourney finale in 1999 and captured the first National Championship in the program's history with a 3-0 sweep over top-ranked Stanford. The 1999 season also saw Rose lead Penn State to its second-consecutive 20-0 record in Big Ten play (and fourth straight conference title), becoming the first team in conference history to pull off the feat. In addition, the 1999 Nittany Lions extended their current NCAA record home-match winning streak to 80 straight (extended to 87 in 2000), eclipsing the previous standard of 58 set by Florida from 1990-94. The Lions streak was finally put to a halt at 87 matches with a loss versus Minnesota on Sept. 29, 2000. Penn State had last dropped a match at Rec Hall on Nov. 24, 1994, when they suffered a 3-2 setback to Illinois, a span of over five seasons.

> Rose has a 26-year Penn State record of 828-151 (.846), making him among the winningest active Division I coaches.

After posting a runner-up finish in 1997, the Lions made it back to the NCAA Championship match in 1998. The team cruised through the regular season with a 30-0 mark with 28 of those coming in three games. Penn State also became only the second school to close out the Big Ten schedule with a perfect 20-0 mark.

After winning its fifth Big Ten title, Penn State hosted the NCAA First and Second Rounds and the Central Regional. They swept past Bucknell, Clemson, Louisville and Brigham Young to earn a spot in the school's fourth national semifinal. Once they reached Madison, Wis., the season ended much like 1997. Penn State defeated Nebraska 3-1 to advance to the national championship match. And once again, the Lions had to rally from a 0-2 deficit to force a fifth game only to come up short against Long Beach State for the NCAA title.

However, perhaps nowhere has Rose's infusion of confidence been more evident than in the two other years when he led an inexperienced team with one starting senior and a rookie setter deep into the postseason.

In 1996, the Lions started out 15-0, before finishing the regular season with a 29-2 mark and a share of the Big Ten title, Rose's third in six seasons in the conference. The squad that took the court in the NCAA tournament was comprised of one senior, one junior, one sophomore and three freshman. That talented group came two points from knocking off Nebraska at home, in a match to go to the national semifinal. Penn State finished the campaign with a 31-3 record and a final ranking of No. 5. Half of those starters, Bonnie

EIGHT BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIPS IN 14 YEARS

Bremner, Angie Kammer and Terri Zemaitis, earned All-America honors, while Bremner became Penn State's first Big Ten Freshman of the Year for her play at setter.

The 1995 squad posted a 27-8 record and a No. 8 final national ranking. Rose's ability to convey a belief in his players and to instill an uncompromising work ethic led to the Nittany Lions' sixth-straight appearance in the NCAA "Sweet 16" and a third-place finish in the Big Ten. Along the way he guided Penn State's third Big Ten Player of the Year in just five seasons in the conference as sophomore Zemaitis captured the award.

"I want the players to have a good experience — I want them to enjoy the many opportunities available at Penn State, but clearly I want them to know that they've come to a competitive, disciplined program and we're going to work hard," Rose said. "And without question have some fun along the way.

"We're not fanatics, and I want the players to be happy. It goes without saying that it is easier to be happy when you're winning than when you're losing. So, the staff will have to provide them with the necessary direction and opportunities and hope they remain healthy enough to see if we can make a run at winning as many matches as possible."

That is something that has never been a problem for the coach. In his 26 seasons at Penn State, Rose's record is 828-151, an .846 winning percentage that ranks second nationally among active coaches. His squads have secured 30 or more wins in a season 18 times and 36 or more victories six times.

In 1994, Rose coached the Nittany Lions to a second straight NCAA national semifinal appearance and picked up his 500th career win early in the season. Placing second in the Big Ten with a 17-3 conference mark, the Nittany Lions posted a 31-4 ledger on the year and ended the regular-season ranked No. 5, at the time their highest regular-season finish ever. Season highlights included beating national runner-up and perennial powerhouse UCLA at the Volleyball Monthly Invitational and stunning No. 1-ranked and undefeated Nebraska in Lincoln in front of a full house at the NCAA Mideast Regional final to advance to their second straight national semifinal.

Rose added to an already crowded trophy case by picking up the NCAA Mideast Region Coach of the Year honor for the fourth time.

Still, Rose has had more to do with Penn State's success on the court than he's willing to admit.

"I think that it's a reflection of my years of service and the caliber of players and staff we've attracted in the past," Rose said. "When you retire from coaching, people will look and see the success you had, but I'd like to be evaluated on the success of my players, their feel for their experience at Penn State and the growth that the program has had since the time I arrived here. We had three in-state scholarships and hand-me-down basketball jerseys when I arrived at Penn State. I think that's more of a reflection of what I was hoping to accomplish when I entered the profession. I'd rather be remembered for the type of parent I want to be for my children than how many games we won while I was at Penn State."

> "I have been involved here for a long time, but I don't want to take the major responsibility for the success because I know one thing for sure, and that is you can't get where we are today without the support of the administration. You need to have good leadership and support."

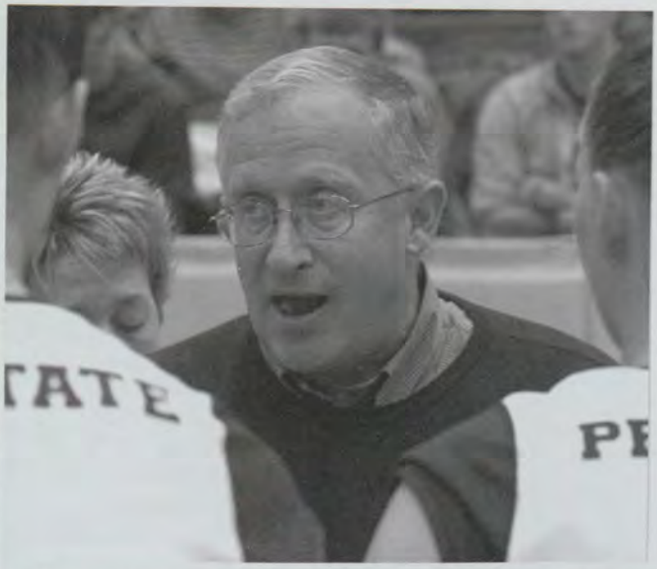
Yet, the on-the-court accomplishments do speak volumes. In 1993, another dream season, the Nittany Lions surged into their third year of Big Ten play and won their second consecutive conference title. At the NCAA Tournament, the team strung together four victories and earned the right to play for the National Championship against Long Beach State. Rose puts the success in proper perspective.

HEAD COACH RUSS ROSE



"There are a large number of excellent coaches at great schools that have yet to break into the national semifinals. There are a small number of teams that have made it there, and fewer yet that have reached the final match. I won't look at it (reaching the final match) other than it was a great ride that the players took us on and it reinforced that there's validity to how I've run the program here at Penn State.

"The players need to understand what it takes to be successful and they need to have fun. We showed that winning can be fun and that it isn't necessary to change in a stressful environment."

Rose's formula for success was recognized by the media and his coaching peers when he garnered the triple-crown of coaching accolades in 1993 as he did in 1990. Volleyball Monthly named Rose the National Coach of the Year and he also was picked as the NCAA Mideast Region and the Big Ten Conference Coach of the Year.

It was the second time Rose was honored nationally (1990), and the second straight year the Big Ten voted for the Nittany Lion leader. In addition, he has been awarded Northeast Region Coach of the Year four times, the Atlantic 10 Conference Coach of the Year six times and was District II's top coach in 1996.

> Rose's athletes have earned 38 All-Big Ten honors in 14 years and have excelled off the court as well, earning 90 Academic All-Big Ten accolades.

"Coach is a great guy," confided three time All-American Salima Davidson, who spent time as the captain and starting setter on the U.S. National Team. "He's very straight-forward and to the point, which is what I like. The thing about him is that you can talk to him and he can help you with any problems you might have. Then, on the court, he's all business. I like that combination."

So does former Nittany Lion outside hitter and former volunteer assistant coach Jen Reimers. "You learn how to be a better person and a better player," she said about Rose's teaching ability. "You learn how to work with everybody else."

"I like the fact that he comes out and tells you exactly how it is," said Penn State All-American Laura Cook (1991-94). "He bases a lot of our experience on the court to life and life after volleyball."

"I really enjoyed the experience I had while playing for Coach Rose," said All-American Katie Schumacher (1998-01). "I learned a lot, both on and off the court. He is a great teacher and is well-respected around the nation."

Many athletes have thrived under Rose's tutelage as witnessed by the 21 different All-Americans (earning 42 selections in all) and 19 first team All-Big Ten players (earning 38 selections in all) he has coached. In 1999, Lauren Cacciamani was named Big Ten Player of the Year, the Big Ten Female Athlete of the Year and the Honda Award winner. Bonnie Bremner and Katie Schumacher joined Cacciamani as All-Big Ten selections in 1999. Bremner won back-to-back Big Ten Player of the Year honors in 1997 and 1998. Amanda Rome and Carrie Schonveld were recognized with honorable mention All-Big Ten status, while Mishka Levy was named to the conference's All-Freshman squad. Penn State also placed six players on the Academic All-Big Ten Team in 1999, as Bremner, Cacciamani, Kalna Miller, Schonveld, Rome and Dawn Ippolito were honored.

In 2000, Schumacher repeated as an All-Big Ten performer, while Levy earned first-team status for the initial time in her career. Amanda Rome was recognized with honorable mention all-conference status after helping lead Penn State to a 30-6 record and its 11th consecutive NCAA regional appearance in 2000. In addition, Rome, Ippolito, Shannon Bortner, Robyn Guokas, Erin Iceman and Hilary Sexton were named Academic All-Big Ten.

Even with its 22-8 season in 2001, Penn State advanced to the NCAA Tournament and garnered 20 wins in a season for the 26th straight year. Schumacher earned first team All-Big Ten honors while Levy picked up honorable mention accolades. Seven Lions earned Academic All-Big Ten recognition during the 2001 campaign. Rome, Iceman, Guokas, Bortner, Sexton, Tabitha Eshleman and Emily Gerega were all recognized for their scholastic and athletic achievements.

In 2002, Rose led a young squad with a freshman setter to a second place finish in the conference and the school's 22nd consecutive NCAA Tournament. Freshman Sam Tortorello earned Penn State's second ever

The squad picked up its seventh Big Ten title in 2003 with a team that was picked to finish second in the conference preseason poll. Seniors Cara Smith and Erin Iceman and sophomore Sam Tortorello were named first team All-Big Ten on a squad that finished 17-3 in league play to earn its 23rd consecutive NCAA berth. Freshman Cassy Salyer earned Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors and Rose was honored with his sixth Big Ten Coach of the Year accolade. Penn State advanced to the NCAA Regional Final match at Florida, falling to the Gators in three games.

Smith, Tortorello and Iceman picked up AVCA All-America honors with Smith earning first team accolades, Tortorello being named to the second team and Iceman picking up honorable mention honors.

Again picked to finish second in the Big Ten in 2004, Rose's squad ended the non-conference portion of their schedule with an unblemished 9-0 record that included a come-from-behind five-game victory at eventual-National Champion Stanford. Top-ranked Minnesota handed the Nittany Lions their first loss of the season in five games at Rec Hall and just five matches later, No. 7 Ohio State also defeated Penn State at home in five games. With a renewed sense of pride following the two losses at home, the Nittany Lions caught fire and won their next 11 matches, including four-game wins over the Gophers and Buckeyes, A three-game win at Michigan on Nov. 27 gave Rose and the Nittany Lions their eighth Big Ten title in 14 years and advanced them to their 24th consecutive NCAA Tournament, where they fell to UCLA at the NCAA Regional Semifinal in Seattle, Wash.

Junior Sam Tortorello and senior Syndie Nadeau earned AVCA All-America honors as Tortorello was named to the first team and Nadeau picked up second team accolades. Junior libero Kaleena Walters joined Tortorello and Nadeau on the All-Big Ten squad as freshman Kate Price was named the Big Ten Freshman of the Year, marking the third time in as many years that a Nittany Lion won the award (Tortorello picked it up in 2002 and Cassy Salyer was awarded in 2003). Tortorello was also a finalist for the Honda Award, given to the top female collegiate athlete in the country in each sport. Penn State also produced four Academic All-Big Ten honorees, pushing Penn State's 14-year total to 38 student-athletes earning 90 selections.

Prior to entering the tough Big Ten Conference in 1991, Penn State experienced unprecedented success in the Atlantic 10 Conference, winning eight straight championships. In seven seasons of round-robin play, the Nittany Lions never lost a conference match, reeling off 49 consecutive wins. The 1990 season was Penn State's last in the Atlantic 10 and it proved to be one of the most exciting in the 25-year history of the program.

HEAD COACH RUSS ROSE

Unbeaten in 42 regular-season matches, the Nittany Lions swept Purdue and Big Ten champion Wisconsin in the first two rounds of the NCAA Tournament. Of the team's 44 wins, 40 were sweeps, a school and national record. Penn State, 12-0 against NCAA Tournament teams, lost to Nebraska in four games in the Mideast Region championship match in Lincoln.

Penn State finished sixth in the final 1990 Tachikara Coaches Poll, the program's highest final ranking ever at the time.

Three Nittany Lions — Jo Ann Elwell, Michelle Jaworski and Noelle Zientara — were named All-Americans by the AVCA and Volleyball Monthly.

An 11-time nominee for National Coach of the Year, Rose garnered the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year award in 1984, 85, 87, 88, 89 and 90.

Throughout his career, Rose has been called upon to share his expertise with the coaches and players who represent the United States in international competition. In 1989, he was an assistant coach with the United States men's national team for an exhibition series with Canada and the Soviet Union. His work on the international scene was to have continued in July of that year, but personal commitments and time constraints prevented him from accepting the position as head coach of the U.S. women's team to the Maccabiah Games.

In 1990, Rose worked with members of the men's national and developmental teams during training camp in San Diego. In 1993, he assisted in the U.S. men's matches with Canada and the women's team against China. He also assisted with the U.S. men as they prepared for the 2000 Olympics in Sydney.

In the summer of 2002, Rose assisted the U.S. men's team on a 13-day tour of Italy where the athletes competed against the world's top teams, including Brazil, Italy, Yugoslavia, Russia and Holland.

An instructor in the USVBA coaches certification program, Rose has served as a national referee and evaluator and state director for volleyball for the Special Olympics.

In 2005, USA Volleyball named Rose one of their All-Time Great Coaches, making him the first Big Ten coach to ever receive the honor and putting him in the company of the best volleyball coaches in history, including previous Olympic coaches as well as many of their peers.

Rose was a member of the NCAA Division I Volleyball Committee for six years and the NCAA representative to the United States Volleyball Association Rules Committee.

Rose served as head coach of the U.S. men's team, which won the bronze medal at the 1985 Maccabiah Games, and the U.S. women's silver medal team in the 1981 Maccabiah Games. He won bronze medals as an assistant coach of the women's team in the 1982 National Sports Festival and as the East women's head coach at the 1983 Festival.

An active clinician, Rose also coached professional men's volleyball in Puerto Rico in 1976 and has continued to do clinics on the island as well as in the United States.

Players are not the only ones to benefit from Rose's tutelage. Over 20 individuals within the college coaching fraternity have gained instruction from Rose.

A 1975 graduate of George Williams College, Rose was a member of the school's team that won the 1974 National Association for Intercollegiate Athletics national championship. He was the captain of the 1975 team that finished third in NAIA competition.

After graduation, Rose remained at George Williams for two years as a part-time coach, helping the women's team win two state titles and place sixth in national competition. He also assisted the men's team that won the national championship in 1977.

In 1978, he completed his master's degree at Nebraska, where he was the defensive coach for the Cornhusker women. While writing his thesis on volleyball statistics, he led the second team to a two-year varsity mark of 52-5.

In 1986, Rose married Lori Barberich, a former three-time All-American at Penn State. They are the parents of four sons, Jonathan, Michael, Christopher and Nicholas.

THE ROSE COACHING PHILOSOPHY

Russ Rose has taken Penn State from the regionally competitive level to that of an NCAA power since he took over the Penn State women's volleyball program in 1979.

The development has been complete and successful, because of excellent talent and an equally sound method. Following is "The Rose Coaching Philosophy:"

COACH'S ROLE

"I believe the coach has numerous roles that require constant review and attention."

"First, and foremost, is the recruitment of quality student-athletes. With effective coaching, student-athletes become the real key to a team's success."

"Secondly, we as a staff have to relate to the players what we feel is important for their growth and success. All the knowledge in the world will prove to be useless if we can't prepare our team for competition. We've shown this to be one of our strengths. I have great confidence in Mike and Kevin that they will do whatever it takes to help the players improve and pursue their dreams."

"Third, we have to prepare the team both physically and mentally. The physical preparation is easy, as the entire Penn State environment encourages the pursuit of excellence as shown by our Sears Director's Cup results. The mental aspect of our players' development is one of the areas that I feel has separated us from our competition."

"Certainly our time in the Big Ten has really demonstrated to us the importance of making sure that the players are aware of what is going to be expected in a conference as strong as the Big Ten. It's been the strongest conference in the country via the RPI and has led the nation in attendance for a number of years."

"Outside the Big Ten, we play a competitive non-conference schedule. We continually strive to meet teams during the regular-season that have advanced in the national championship playoffs. This year in particular as we play every NCAA Champion since our title in '99."

"I contend that the best way to see where our team is and where we aspire to be, is to play the nation's best teams. Our administration has allowed us to truly compete annually for the national championship. Universities enable teams to compete for the conference and national championship. I have been blessed to have an administration that possessed the vision to support our program and I feel we have been able to deliver. It starts at the top with a University President and Athletic Department staff who guide and assist the program."

"I think our role here is to attract the type of player that wants to be at Penn State, understands what we are about and knows what it will take to fit into our program. I don't want to be in the position where we are going to have to be saying one thing to get a player interested in Penn State and then change our story once the athlete arrives on campus. So I am interested in people who are willing to be up front in what they see in their own development and what we can do to help them succeed."

"I have been contacted by numerous schools as well as the National Team program regarding their coaching positions, but I feel that the support I receive from the administration at Penn State is second to none, and I have no interest in leaving."

FUNDAMENTALS

"Fundamentals are the most important aspect of the game. I know it's a tedious process, but you need to spend a great deal of time on them. We try to recruit student-athletes that are great volleyball players but the game always comes down to fundamentals. I will not sacrifice the time necessary to develop a strong foundation. This is where a team's discipline and confidence is first introduced and developed. Our commitment to each team is for every one of our players to be challenged to become the best they can be every day. I know our players are constantly improving their game here. I won't guarantee victories but I can guarantee a player will improve at Penn State. "

TEAM PLAY

"Team play really deals with volleyball being the ultimate team sport. The greatest thing you can talk about is the opportunity for a team to compete for a national championship. You must communicate and sacrifice to be successful. All the players must possess a wide variety of skills and be willing and able to play together. My approach is to select the best combination of players who will play together and at the same time seek to fulfill their own roles and goals.

"The team that is willing to emphasize the pursuit of excellence at its own personal expense is the team that most often succeeds. Our success over the years, where we have won our conference and advanced to the national semifinal and championship matches, continues to reinforce these beliefs. 1999's National Championship was just the icing on the cake. A National Championship does not validate a coach or their program. It highlights the efforts of many and allows the community to celebrate the actions of the team. Our goal is to return to that level."

TEAM DEFENSE

"Team defense is one of the aspects of coaching that I really enjoy. It has always been one of the staples of our program. The pursuit of the ball in a game can only occur through preparation and repetition. I believe that everyone in the program has to rally around certain concepts. At Penn State, we play hard, controlled defense, which means every player pursues every ball or they are taken out. I believe if you train hard, then the game itself begins to be easy. If a player starts making decisions on what ball they think they can get and what they think is somebody else's ball, that's when we try to make some adjustments and get someone else involved in the play. Our defensive philosophy is to keep every ball in play — every day of each season. I believe we have shown this works over the long haul as well."

STUDENT-ATHLETE

"The term student-athlete is a very valid one here at Penn State and in the Big Ten. We recruit not only quality athletes, but quality students as well. There is no question in my mind that the well-rounded individual will be better prepared to deal with the numerous challenges faced in life. The programs available at Penn State are geared for success. The opportunity to pursue your potential, both academically and athletically, is in place and working well at Penn State. The student support services at Penn State and the job Jim Weaver does with our team is outstanding. It is a reflection of the entire athletic department commitment to provide the necessary services for the student-athletes to pursue and achieve their dreams."

"I expect a commitment both to academics and athletics. I take great pride in the fact that every young woman who has entered our program and completed her playing eligibility has received her degree. Rankings of the 29 athletic programs on campus reveal that the women's volleyball team annually posts one of the highest cumulative grade-point averages. With proper emphasis on the importance of maintaining high academic standards, I know we will achieve continual success. We have had the most members of Academic All-Big Ten as a sport and an institution since joining the conference, and that speaks volumes about our student-athletes as well as our academic advising staff."

THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

"The Big Ten is certainly the premier athletic conference in the nation. It is a conference that is totally committed to the pursuit of excellence. The opportunity to play in the Big Ten truly enhances our program. The excitement generated by the athletes and fans at matches is great for the sport. It's a great environment in which to compete. The conference has been ranked No. 1 in the volleyball RPI ratings since 1998 and again led the nation in attendance in 2004."

PENN STATE UNIVERSITY

"Penn State has been terrific for women's volleyball. I don't think there is another school in the country that has the support from everyone from the athletic director to the president of the university. The university president routinely drops by practices and uses the players in university functions to help increase the visibility of the program. I am extremely optimistic on the future of Penn State women's volleyball and there is no place in the country I'd rather be than Penn State. The community has supported us during our development and the university's commitment is to be the best in everything it offers, from academics to athletics."

RECRUITING

"It is our goal to encourage quality student athletes to visit Penn State with their parents to get a realistic view of what is really entailed with what we refer to as the "Penn State Experience." The campus, the environment and face of State College truly separates us from many of the other schools in the country as we exemplify the meaning of a "college town." The chemistry that exists between the team members is what has kept us competitive and the energy that exists between the university and the town of State College keeps the juices flowing. We want players that want to make a commitment to be the best that they can be. We also want players to be aware of the fact that I am looking for a level of accountability from them as well. I'm not looking for a situation where I'm going to spend 24 hours a day, seven days a week trying to monitor their lifestyles or get involved in preventing them from having a good time. I believe the college experience at this time in their lives is the greatest opportunity to have fun and explore. I think you live hard and play hard and at Penn State, the students have a great opportunity to have fun in multiple areas."

STAFF

"I feel positive about the staff. I think it's great to have Mike (Schall) and Kevin (Starns). The position of Director of Volleyball Operations has demonstrated new commitment to women's volleyball and no one is better prepared than Julie (Backstrom) to fulfill that. She has a great understanding of the University and is 100% a Penn Stater. Some people would think that having people that are from their alma mater would be a negative but I see it as a positive. It's a positive thing to have these people involved because they know in this program they are going to be encouraged to have an opinion and their opinions are going to be heard. I respect what they have to say and the players can turn to them and get good feedback and not be dependent on having to interact with me all of the time. The addition of Kevin Starns brings a wealth of knowledge to our program and I know the players will reap the benefits of interacting with her on a daily basis. An additional benefit that I think is important in our philosophy is that we try and look at the strengths of the players and the strengths of what's available. We think it's a tremendous bonus. We're one of five schools in the country who have had a men's and a women's team that have won a national championship and the only school outside of California that can make that claim and I think it's terrific that volleyball is on the map here year round. The interaction between the men's and women's programs here is exceptional. We will be hosting the 2005 NCAA Regional for the women and the 2006 NCAA National Championship for the men."

BOOSTER CLUB

"Our Booster Club is terrific and committed to assisting the players in their transition to Penn State, as well as supporting us in going on our foreign trips. They make so many things possible and the team and the staff know how fortunate we are to have their support. This past spring trip to Italy was terrific and shared by 20 members of the Booster Club. "

PENN STATE VOLLEYBALL

ASSISTANT COACH MIKE SCHALL

Mike Schall

- 15th Year at Penn State
- Alma Mater: Penn State, 1994

In his 15th season as a Penn State assistant, Michael Schall is the most veteran member of Penn State's women's volleyball coaching staff other than head coach Russ Rose.

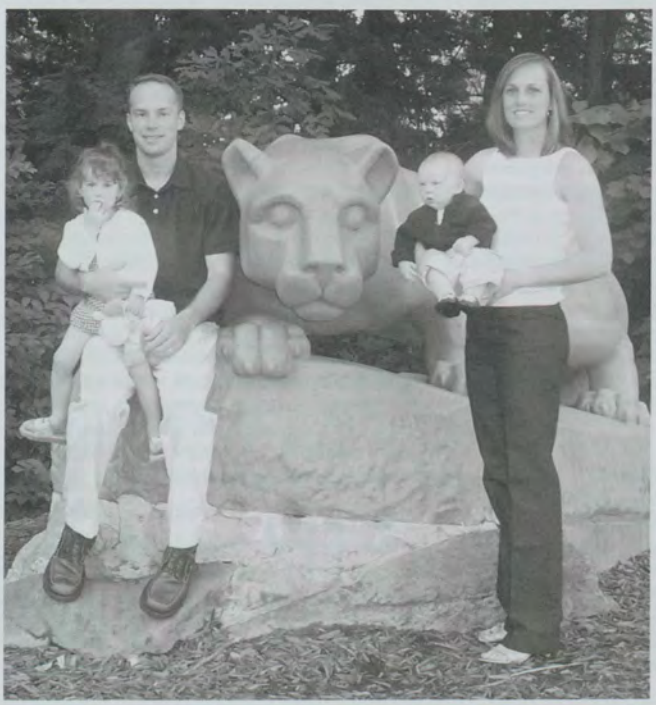
Schall is involved in every aspect of the program, including match preparation, player development among other duties.

Schall earned four letters as a defensive specialist on the Nittany Lion men's volleyball team. A two-year co-captain, Schall also displayed longevity as a player as he played in every Penn State match during his four-year career.

Schall brings the experience of a proven winner as he was a member of three Eastern Intercollegiate Volleyball Association (EIVA) championship teams and advanced to the NCAA Semifinals three times.

"Mike has developed into more than just an assistant coach," said head coach Russ Rose. "I depend on Mike for every aspect of the program. There are very few decisions I make that have long-term impact on the program that I don't talk with him about.

"He is a great addition to this program and has been for the 14 years that he has been here. I trust him with every aspect of the program and feel that we are very fortunate to have continued to keep him involved in the Penn State family."



Penn State has an overall record of 416-64 in the 14 years that Rose and Schall have coached together.

A native of Latrobe, Pa., Schall earned his degree in the teaching option of the exercise and sport science curriculum in 1994. He is the second generation of Schalls to enter the volleyball coaching profession as he played for his father, Richard, at Derry Area High School.

Schall's brothers Jim (1988-92) and Dan (1995-99) are also Penn State graduates and were members of the men's volleyball squad. Jim is the head girls and boys volleyball coach at Penn Trafford High School in the Pittsburgh area. Dan is now the head girls and boys volleyball coach at North Allegheny High School.

Schall is married to the former Sarah Curtis. The couple took their vows on May 30, 1998, in State College and have two children. Their daughter, Annabelle Joy, was born on Jan. 30, 2002, and their son, Samuel Allen, was born on Jan. 7, 2004.

Kevin Starns

➤ First Year at Penn State

➤ Alma Mater: University of Nebraska, Omaha, 1995

Kevin Starns begins her first season as an assistant coach with the Penn State women's volleyball team. Starns will be involved with recruiting, training and administrative duties.

"Kevin has a variety of experiences and she will make greater contributions to the Penn State program as she becomes more familiar with the Big Ten and the training cycles that we go through," said head coach Russ Rose. "She's primarily responsible for recruiting and working with backrow players. She works hard and is willing to listen and strives to get better."

The former Kevin Campbell comes to Penn State from UNC-Charlotte, where she was an assistant coach for five seasons. She was the 49ers recruiting coordinator and assisted in all aspects of the program including training and development, scouting, marketing and promotions, fundraising and summer camps and clinics.

Also involved in the volleyball community on a national level, Starns has assisted at the USA Volleyball High Performance tryouts on several occasions and was the Conference USA Representative for the AVCA Assistant Coaches Committee for four years.

In 2001, Starns founded the Charlotte Elite Volleyball Club in Charlotte, N.C., and was responsible for every aspect of the operation, including the schedule, budget, facilities, mentoring of coaches and training. The program had 100% college placement for its participants.

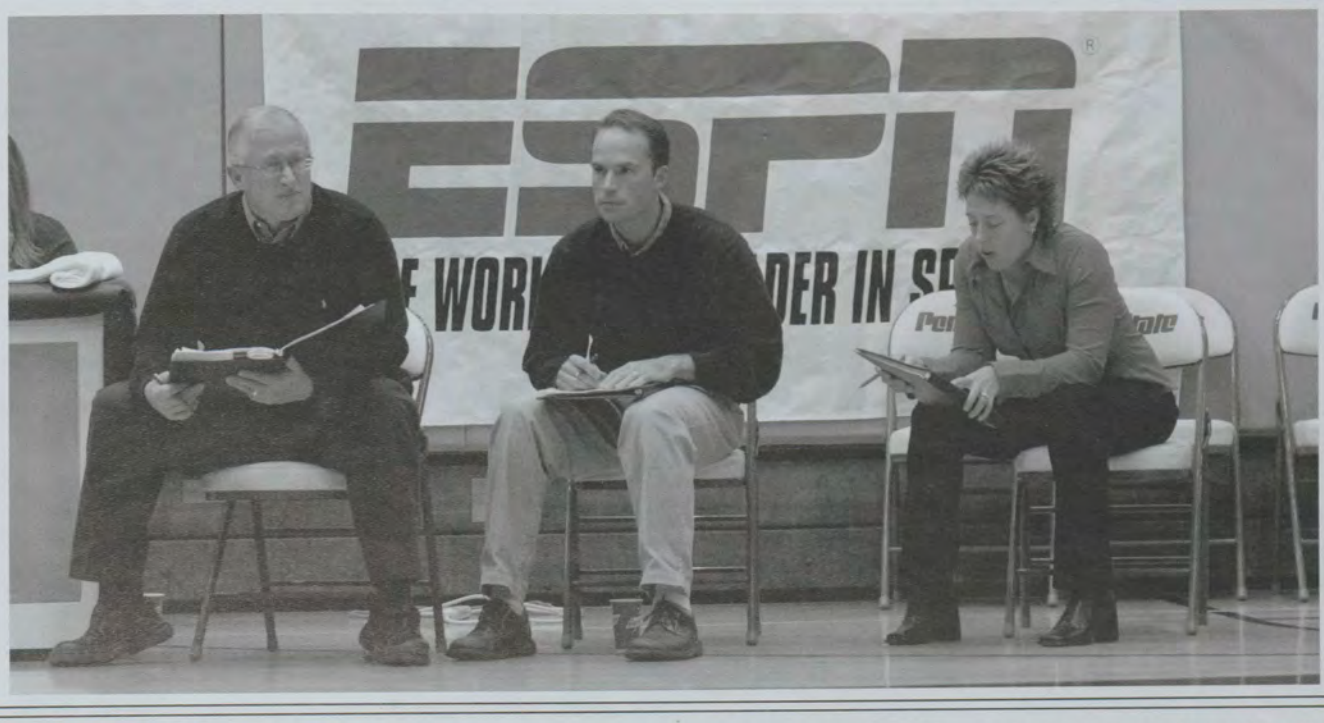
From 1999 to 2000, Starns was an assistant coach at Ohio University and was the assistant coach and assistant compliance officer at Winthrop University from 1998 to 1999 while also serving as the club director for the Carolina Juniors volleyball club.

Starns graduated Cum Laude from the University of Nebraska at Omaha with a degree in History in 1995. She also attended the Nebraska School of Law from 1995-1996.

A four-year member of the Nebraska-Omaha volleyball team, Starns earned All-North Central Conference honors and was named an AVCA North Central All-Regional team member. She is ranked in the NCAA record books for digs in a Division II four-game match (39) and was also named Academic All-North Central Conference.

A native of Omaha, Neb., Starns earned Dean's List recognition in 1991, 1993 and 1994 and was a member of the Golden Key National Honor Society from 1991 to 1995.

Starns was married in September 2004 to Eric H. Starns. Eric is a Lance Corporal in the Marine Corps and is currently stationed in Okinawa, Japan.



DIRECTOR OF VB OPERATIONS JULIE BACKSTROM

Julie Backstrom

➤ Fifth Year at Penn State

➤ Alma Mater: Penn State, 1992

Julie Backstrom begins her fifth season with the Nittany Lion women's volleyball coaching staff and her second season as the Director of Women's Volleyball Operations.

In her new capacity, the former Julie Miller will oversee all administrative areas in the women's volleyball program including team travel and meals, videotape exchange, on-campus recruiting visits, housing and summer camps.

"Julie has moved from a very valuable position in the assistant coaching area to an even more important role as the director of volleyball operations," said head coach Russ Rose. "The position allows her to maximize her strength in the communication area and it frees up some of the other staff members to concentrate on other aspects of the program."

Backstrom, who graduated from Penn State in 1992 and earned her Master's degree in Speech Science from Penn State in 1995, was an assistant coach at the University of Houston before joining the Nittany Lion staff in 2001. Prior to her time with the Cougars, Backstrom was the top assistant at William & Mary from 1995-1998.

During her tenure at Houston, Backstrom's primary duties included acting as recruiting coordinator, academic monitor, conducting the strength and conditioning program in addition to assisting with daily practice and team training. Her area of specialty with the Cougars was working with the team's setters and defensive specialists. In 1999, Houston finished third overall in Conference USA before earning an NCAA Tournament berth in 2000 following a 21-11 campaign, which included an 11-5 mark versus Conference USA foes.

"Julie is a magnificent communicator and a no-nonsense person," noted head coach Russ Rose. "Julie has a good feel for what I want at Penn State and Penn State women's volleyball. She has her two degrees from here and is a very proud alum of the university.

"She came in and hit the ground running. I'm a big believer in recruiting people who want to be here, and nobody wanted to return here more than Julie."

Backstrom played for Rose's Nittany Lions during the 1988 season before an injury interrupted her career. During her rehabilitation, Backstrom served as a student assistant coach (1989-91). Backstrom returned to action in 1992 to finish her eligibility and was a member of that year's Big Ten Championship squad.

A graduate of Pittsburgh's North Allegheny High School, Backstrom was a WPIAL first-team selection during her junior and senior seasons. She also competed in the Keystone State Games in 1986 and 1987.

Prior to her coaching experience at William & Mary, Backstrom was the assistant coach for both the boy's and girl's squad at North Allegheny High School. She helped to lead the North Allegheny girl's squad to a state championship in 1994.

The Pittsburgh native earned Atlantic 10 and Big Ten All-Academic honors during her playing career at Penn State. Backstrom's brother, Brian Miller, was a member of Penn State's men's volleyball national championship squad in 1994.

Backstrom's father, Bob Miller, was the head volleyball coach at North Allegheny in Pittsburgh for 35 years before retiring in 2002.

She is married to Brent Backstrom and the couple took their vows on Nov. 23, 2003.

Adam Hughes

➤ Fourth Year as team manager and statistician

Adam Hughes begins his fourth season with the Penn State women's volleyball program as the team manager and statistician.

"He is a very valuable young fellow," said head coach Russ Rose. "Hughesy makes great contributions to the team from his interactions with the players to carrying out the roles of a manager with a smile and a carefree attitude."

A native of State College, Hughes played volleyball for State College Area High School as an outside hitter, earning All-State honors in 2002. Hughes is majoring in accounting. He is the son of Janet and Paul Hughes and has two brothers, Justin (28), who attends Case Western Law School, and Nolan (25), who attends Jefferson Medical School. He lists anything sports-related as his hobbies and "Baseball Tonight" as his favorite television show.

Kirk Hoover

➤ Fourth Year as team manager and statistician

Kirk Hoover begins his fourth year with the Nittany Lions as a team manager. A State College native, he was an all-state middle blocker for State College Area High school and also played football.

The son of Greg and Deb, Hoover has one brother, Kyle, 26, and one sister, Kaitlin, 16. He is majoring in Kinesiology with a Health and Physical Education option for teaching and wants to become a gym teacher.

Hoover is an avid flyfisherman and his favorite movie is "A River Runs Through It," his favorite TV show is "Aqua Teen Hunger Force," and his favorite food is buffalo chicken pizza.

QUOTING RUSS ROSE

"Kate was our best player in Italy until she was injured. Unfortunately her foot injury caused her to drop off of the USA Junior National Team and we're still waiting for her to heal completely. The good thing about Kate is that she has so much volleyball experience that she will be able to get herself back into the mix very quickly. She learned a great deal last season about college volleyball and my expectations for her are very high."

PRICE'S EXPECTATIONS

"To contribute to winning a National Championship."

Born Christa Deanne Harmotto on Oct. 12, 1986 in Sewickley, Pa. ... parents are Robert and Constance Harmotto ... has two brothers, Nathan (16) and Nolan (12) ... father Robert played basketball at Juniata College ... majoring in meteorology ... names hobbies as snowboarding, art and scrapbooking, favorite musician as Shania Twain, favorite school subject as math, favorite pro sports team as the Pittsburgh Steelers, favorite athlete as Ben Rothlisberger, favorite food as Gnocchi's, favorite book as the Left Behind series, favorite TV show as "Desperate Housewives," favorite movie as "Independence Day," favorite actor as Will Smith, favorite actress as Sandra Bullock and favorite place to visit as Hilton Head, S.C.

WHY I CHOSE PENN STATE

"I chose Penn State because of the wide variety of educational opportunities, the women's volleyball tradition and history and the family-like atmosphere."

QUOTING RUSS ROSE

"Christa was recognized as the best player in the state of Pennsylvania and she made a commitment to get even better after receiving that award. Her selection to the USA Junior National Team for the second time identified her as one of the nation's elite in her age group. I think she'll have a great career at Penn State because she is a player that feels strongly about competing in Rec Hall. She's strong and quick and that's a great combination for a middle hitter."

HARMOTTO'S EXPECTATIONS

"This season I plan to work as hard as I possibly can, continue to develop as a player and contribute to the team on its road to success."

Penn State and the NACWAA Showcase

The Nittany Lions will be making their fifth appearance in the AVCA/NACWAA College Volleyball Showcase to open the season but the first since 2000. Penn State holds a 5-3 all-time record at the NACWAA Showcase. In 2000, the Nittany Lions lost to UCLA in five games before defeating Florida in four games. In 1999, Penn State lost to Florida in five games, its only loss of the National Championship season, before defeating Nebraska in four games. The Nittany Lions defeated both BYU and Stanford in 1997 and in 1995 lost to Nebraska before beating Cal State Northridge.

Nittany Lions By Month

Penn State is 18-3 (.857) all-time during the month of August. Its first two losses came during the inaugural NACWAA in 1995 when Nebraska swept the Lions, and in the 1999 NACWAA when Florida outlasted Penn State 3-2 in the opening round. The Lions fell to UCLA in the first round of the NACWAA in 2000, their last loss in August.

Penn State is 281-46-4 (.855) all-time during the month of September. Amazingly, the Lions are 105-7 during September dating back to the 1995 season and 29-2 over the last three years.

The Lions are 320-63 (.836) all-time during the month of October. Penn State has posted a 55-10 mark in October over the last seven seasons.

Penn State is 221-53 (.807) all-time during the month of November, including a 71-7 mark over the last seven seasons. The Lions had not lost a match in November since 1995 but saw the streak snapped with a 3-2 setback at Minnesota during the 2000 season. Over the last two seasons, Penn State has a 17-0 mark in November.

Quick Sets

• Over the last nine years, the Lions have lost only 37 matches. And of those 15 teams that defeated the Lions – Brigham Young, Florida, Illinois, Long Beach State, Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota, Nebraska, Northwestern, Ohio State, USC, Stanford, Temple, UCLA and Wisconsin – only 10 of these teams (Florida, Illinois, Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota, Northwestern, Ohio State, Stanford, UCLA and Wisconsin) have been able to beat Penn State a second time. The Lions have compiled a 120-37 (76%) mark in the last nine years versus these teams.

vs. Michigan 16-2	vs. Stanford 4-2
vs. Northwestern 16-2	vs. Michigan State 15-3
vs. Wisconsin 14-5	vs. Ohio State 14-5
vs. Florida 2-3	vs. UCLA 2-3
vs. Nebraska 2-1	vs. Minnesota 14-5
vs. Long Beach State 0-1	vs. Southern California 0-1
vs. Illinois 17-2	vs. Temple 0-1
vs. Brigham Young 4-1

• When taking a 2-0 lead, Penn State had won 139 consecutive matches but saw the streak end in a five-game loss on Nov. 9, 2001 at Illinois. The streak dated back to a loss at Ohio State on Oct. 16, 1996. Since joining the Big Ten for the 1991 season, Penn State has played in 480 total matches, winning 418. Amazingly, 330 of those 418 wins, or 79%, have been three-game sweeps. In 2004, 22 of Penn State's 29 wins were in three games.

• The Big Ten Conference again led the nation with seven teams included in the 2004 NCAA Championship bracket, marking the fifth time in league history that the conference had seven or more teams selected to the NCAA Championship. The Big Ten sent a record eight teams to the NCAAs in 1999 and 2002 and boasted seven participants in 1995 and 2003. Penn State earned the 2004 automatic berth by winning the conference championship while Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio State, Purdue and Wisconsin all earned at-large invitations. The Big 12 Conference also fielded seven teams selected to the 2004 NCAA Championship.

• Eight league schools placed among the Top 25 in the country in volleyball attendance in 2004. Wisconsin ranked third with an average of 4,079, Minnesota placed fourth with an average of 3,742, Penn State ranked sixth with an average of 2,368, Illinois was 10th with an average of 1,761, Michigan State placed 13th with an average of 1,680, Purdue averaged 1,564 for 14th, Michigan ranked 22nd with an average of 1,394 and Ohio State rounded out the Big Ten schools by producing an average of 1,280 fans, good for 24th.

• The Big Ten produced three American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) National Players of the Week during the 2004 season. Ohio State's Stacey Gordon picked up the honor on Sept. 13, Minnesota's Kelly Bowman earned it on Oct. 25 and Penn State's Syndie Nadeau collected it on Nov. 8, the first national award of its kind for the Nittany Lions in program history.

• Eleven Big Ten players earned AVCA All-America honors for the 2004 season. Penn State's Sam Tortorello, Ohio State's Stacey Gordon and Minnesota's Kelly Bowman and Paula Gentil picked up first team honors, Penn State's Syndie Nadeau and Ohio State's Marisa Main earned second team honors and Wisconsin's Jill Odenthal earned third team honors. Michigan State's Kim Schram, Minnesota's Erin Martin, Wisconsin's Sheila Shaw and Illinois' Jessica Belter picked up honorable mention accolades. Five of the 11 players will be returning to their respective teams for the 2005 season.

Since joining the Big Ten Conference for the 1991 season, Penn State has racked up an impressive 239-41 (.854) record in league matches – the best mark of any Big Ten team over that 14-year span.

• Of the 21 matches in Big Ten history that have involved two teams ranked in the top 10 in the nation in the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) Coaches Poll, six occurred during the 2004 campaign. The first top 10 match-up of the season set a Big Ten record as it featured the two highest ranked teams in Big Ten history to be involved in the same contest, as No. 1 Minnesota defeated No. 4 Penn State, 3-2, in State College, Pa., on Oct. 2. It was also only the second time ever that two League teams faced off while each was nationally ranked in the top five. The only other time this scenario occurred in Conference history was when No. 4 Ohio State battled No. 5 Penn State on November 29, 1994.

Not since October 19, 2002, had two Big Ten squads taken to the court ranked in the top 10. Ironically, that match was also between Minnesota (9) and Penn State (8). Other top 10 matches of the 2004 season included No. 7 Ohio State at No. 5 Penn State on Oct. 20, No. 6 Penn State at No. 5 Minnesota on Nov. 5, No. 7 Ohio State at No. 5 Minnesota on Nov. 6, No. 4 Penn State at No. 7 Ohio State on Nov. 17 and No. 7 Ohio State at No. 4 Minnesota in the NCAA Regional Final on Dec. 11. Prior to this season, the most top-10 meetings that occurred in a single season was four in 1995.

Since joining the Big Ten in 1991, the Nittany Lions have been involved in 17 of the 21 total contests featuring two league teams both ranked in the top 10.

BIG TEN CONFERENCE

THIS IS THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

The Big Ten Conference is an association of 11 world-class universities whose member institutions share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. Intercollegiate athletics has an important place within the mission.

Founded in 1896, the Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics in student-athletes' lives and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness. Big Ten universities provide in excess of $82 million in athletic scholarship aid to more than 8,500 men and women student-athletes who compete for 25 championships, 12 for men and 13 for women. In 2004-05, the Big Ten distributed over $116 million in revenues to its 11 member institutions. Conference institutions sponsor broad-based athletic programs with more than 270 teams.

BIG TEN UNIVERSITIES ...

- are members of the nation's only conference whose constituency is entirely composed of institutions that are members of the AAU, a prestigious association of major academic and research institutions in the United States and Canada.
- host more than 70 Nobel laureates as faculty, students or researchers.
- enroll students of whom over 41 percent have graduated in the top 10 percent of their high school class, while 74 percent graduated in the top quarter of their class.
- have more than 3,500,000 living alumni and over 300,000 undergraduate students attending Big Ten universities.
- typically receive more than 8,000 employers each year who conduct recruitment visits on Big Ten campuses.
- house on their campuses eight of the nation's 25 largest academic libraries. All of the Conference libraries are interconnected through an online library system (the Virtual Electronic Library).

ATHLETIC PROGRAMS IN THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE ...

- have created in excess of 2,000 new opportunities for women student-athletes and established 28 new women's teams.
- had more than 8,400 student-athletes playing on over 270 teams in 2003-04. Those student-athletes received in excess of $82 million in direct financial aid.
- have student-athletes graduate at an average rate of 10 percentage points higher than all Division I student-athletes.
- recognized 1,952 Academic All-Big Ten honorees during the 2004-05 academic year, the highest total in the last decade. Over the past five years, the Conference has annually acknowledged nearly 1,700 student-athletes as Academic All-Conference honorees.
- in the past 10 years (1995-96 through 2004-05), have claimed 40 NCAA team championships and 155 individual titles.
- have won 195 team national championships and 1,162 individual NCAA titles. In 1999–00, the Conference celebrated six NCAA team titles (men's soccer, women's volleyball, wrestling, men's basketball, fencing, men's gymnastics), the most for the Big Ten in the last 10 years.
- have ranked as the best among the six major conferences according to a new award for college athletics called the Excellence in Athletics Cup. The Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics at Texas A&M University established the award program in 2004 to recognize all-around achievement in athletics. Each athletics department from six conferences – ACC, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, SEC and Pac-10 - was evaluated based on excellence during postseason and conference competition, in the classroom relative to the overall undergraduate student-body, in gender equity, and efficient financial operations. On the conference level, the Big Ten ranked among the top two in four of the six categories including first in overall graduation rates and achieving gender equity, and second in African-American student-athlete graduation rates and NCAA postseason competition, to finish first in the league overall standings.
- have showcased more than 300 events that were televised nationally, regionally and locally last year, representing over 600 hours of programming.
- are among the national attendance leaders in football, men's and women's basketball and women's volleyball. During 2004–05, more than 7.8 million fans attended Big Ten home contests in those sports.

BIG TEN 9-11 SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Following the national tragedy on September 11, 2001, the Big Ten Conference, through its intercollegiate athletic department revenues, pledged a $1 million scholarship contribution to assist the families of those affected by the terrorist attacks. The Big Ten made a presentation to Lumina Foundation for Education and the Citizens' Scholarship Foundation of America™ (CSFA) to provide undergraduate and graduate degree scholarships at Big Ten Conference member institutions. The Conference's donation is called the "Big Ten 9-11 Scholarship Fund." The $1 million contribution will be drawn from Conference reserves, which are generated as a result of football and men's basketball participation in NCAA, bowl and regular season television opportunities.

Penn State Claims Eighth Big Ten Title, Advances to 24th Consecutive NCAA Tournament

With its 29-3 record for the 2004 season, Penn State advanced to its 24th consecutive NCAA Tournament, reaching the Regional Semifinals. The Nittany Lions defeated American and Maryland before falling to UCLA in four games in Seattle, Wash. Penn State has an NCAA Tournament record of 43-23.

Big Ten Champions

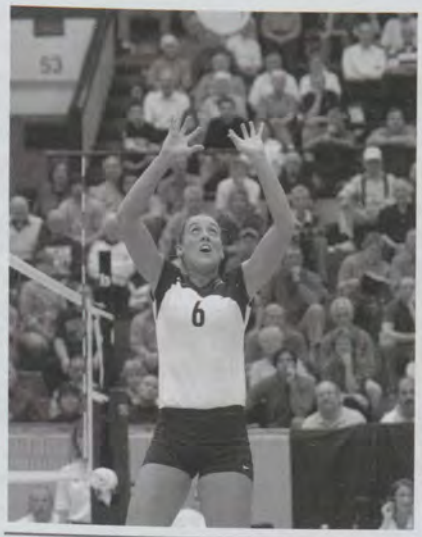
With the three-game win over Michigan on Nov. 27, Penn State claimed its second consecutive outright Big Ten title and its eighth league crown in 14 years since joining the Big Ten for the 1991 season. The Nittany Lions were also sole champions in 1993, 1998, 1999 and 2003 while sharing the title in 1992, 1996 and 1997. The win marks the 16th conference title for head coach Russ Rose, as he won eight straight Atlantic 10 titles before joining the Big Ten. Every senior class since 1992 has garnered at least one Big Ten Championship trophy during their tenure in Happy Valley.

Two AVCA All-Americans

Sam Tortorello and Syndie Nadeau were both named AVCA All-America in 2004 as Tortorello picked up first team honors and Nadeau was awarded second team accolades.

The selections bring Penn State's total number of All-America honorees to 40 since the 1979 season. Head coach Russ Rose has coached at least one All-American in 25 of his 26 seasons at Penn State.

➤ Kate Price was named Penn State's third consecutive Big Ten Freshman of the Year.



➤ Sam Tortorello was named a first team AVCA All-America selection last year.

Price Picks Up Big Ten FOY

Freshman outside hitter Kate Price picked up Penn State's third consecutive Big Ten Freshman of the Year award, joining current teammates Cassy Salyer (2003) and Sam Tortorello (2002) and four-time All-American Bonnie Bremner (1996) as the only Nittany Lions to earn the league's top freshman honors.

Price was also one of six student-athletes to be named to the Big Ten All-Freshman team.

All-Big Ten

Senior Syndie Nadeau and juniors Sam Tortorello and Kaleena Walters were three of 13 players named to the All-Big Ten team. The three accolades bring Penn State's all-time total to 55 postseason honorees. Tortorello picks up her third All-Big Ten honor as she was voted unanimously to the 2004 team while Walters and Nadeau pick up their first-ever career All-Big Ten accolades.

Top-10 Matches

Of the 21 matches in Big Ten history that have involved two teams ranked in the top 10 in the nation in the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) Coaches Poll, six occurred during the 2004 campaign. The first top 10 match-up of the season set a Big Ten record as it featured the two highest ranked teams in Big Ten history to be involved in the same contest, as No. 1 Minnesota defeated No. 4 Penn State, 3-2, in State College, Pa., on Oct. 2. It was also only the second time ever that two league teams faced off while each was nationally ranked in the top five. The only other time this scenario occurred in conference history was when No. 4 Ohio State battled No. 5 Penn State on November 29, 1994.

➤ Syndie Nadeau earned her first career AVCA All-America honor in 2004.

Breaking the 800 Mark

Penn State head coach Russ Rose became the sixth coach in Division I history to reach the 800 win mark with the Sept. 3 win over Rutgers at Rec Hall. Rose joined Andy Banachowski (UCLA), Elaine Michaelis (BYU-retired), Mick Haley (USC), Dave Shoji (Hawaii) and Marilyn Nolen (St. Louis-retired) on the list of coaches to eclipse the 800-win plateau.

NCAAs at Rec Hall = Wins

With the two wins over American and Maryland in the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament, Penn State improved its all-time record to 31-2 in NCAA matches played at Rec Hall. Of the 31 wins since 1981, 25 have been three-game sweeps.

No. 2

Penn State earned the No. 2 seed in the 2004 NCAA Tournament, the highest seed for the squad since it was seeded No. 1 in 1999, the same year it won the NCAA Title.

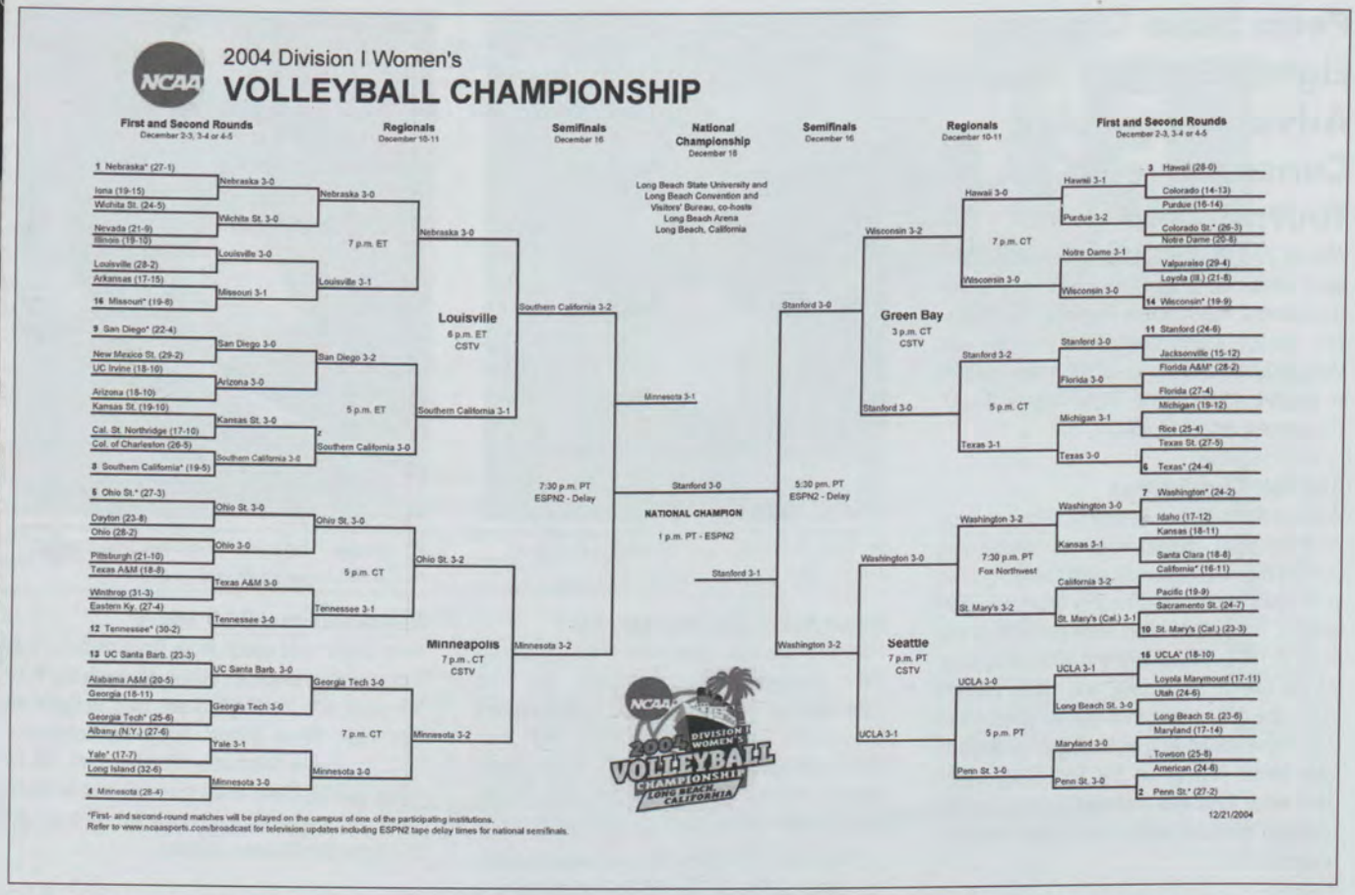
Quite A Streak

The Nittany Lions have advanced to the NCAA Regional Semifinal match in 17 of the possible 24 years, including the last two seasons. Beyond that, Penn State has played in five NCAA National Semifinal matches and four NCAA National Final contests, winning the National Championship in 1999.

Tortorello Drops A Triple

Junior setter Sam Tortorello accomplished something that only five other players in the Big Ten did in 2004. Against Maryland on Dec. 4, Tortorello posted a career-high 10 kills, dished out 52 assists and racked up 15 digs for her first career-triple double.

2004 HIGHLIGHTS



Tortorello Clears 4,000

Junior setter Sam Tortorello is moving up the career assist chart. With her 91 combined assists versus Indiana and Purdue on Oct. 29-30, Tortorello surpassed 4,000 assists for her career, becoming only the fifth Nittany Lion in Penn State history to accomplish the feat. She joins four All-Americans in Michelle Jaworski, Bonnie Bremner, Salima Davidson and Ellen Hensler in reaching the plateau. With her 54 assists at Minnesota on Nov. 5, Tortorello also broke the family record of 4,107 career assists set by her sister Liz, who was a setter at Wisconsin from 1988-92. Tortorello ended the 2004 season with 4,603 career assists, just 171 from surpassing Hensler (4,774) and just 397 away from the 5,000 career assists plateau.

Among the Nation's Elite

Since the NCAA started sponsoring volleyball in 1981, only four teams in the country have appeared in all 24 tournaments. Penn State joins Pacific, Stanford and UC Santa Barbara as the elite programs to accomplish the feat.

The Nittany Lions have compiled an overall record of 43-23 (.535) in the NCAA Tournament, including nine trips to the NCAA Regional Final and five trips to the NCAA Semifinals (1993, 1994, 1997, 1998, 1999).

Walters Breaks Own Mark

Junior libero Kaleena Walters broke her own single-season dig record with her combined 41 digs in the road wins over Michigan State and Michigan on Nov. 26-27. She shattered the previous record of 554, which she set last season and she ended the 2004 campaign with 619 digs, making her the first-ever Penn State player to record 600 or more digs in a season. Walters also set the single-season digs per game record as she averaged 5.68, besting her own mark of 4.29 set last season.

SINCE JOINING THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE FOR THE 1991 SEASON, PENN STATE STUDENT-ATHLETES HAVE EARNED A TOTAL OF 38 FIRST TEAM ALL-BIG TEN SELECTIONS.

Nadeau Makes History

Senior Syndie Nadeau had a good day on Nov. 8. In the morning, she picked up her first-career Big Ten Player of the Week award and in the afternoon she earned Penn State's first-ever Sports Imports/AVCA Division I National Player of the Week award.

At Minnesota on Nov. 5, the senior lit up the Gophers with a season-high 19 kills on 46 swings to hit .348 versus a team that has the second lowest opponent hitting percentage in the Big Ten (.157) and the lowest in conference-only matches (.156). Her match-high 19 kills were just two shy of her career-high of 21, which she set in a five-game match against Florida on Sept. 20, 2002. Not only effective on the offensive end against Minnesota, Nadeau posted 13 digs and three blocks in the match. The following night at Iowa on Nov. 6, Nadeau recorded 11 kills on an errorless 22 swings to hit .500 for the contest. She also tallied a team-high two blocks and notched 11 digs for her second double-double of the weekend and her 11th of the season. For the weekend, Nadeau averaged 4.29 kills per game while hitting .397. An all-around player, the senior also averaged 3.43 digs per game and 0.71 blocks per game through the two matches.

Hitting The Wal(bridge)

In her first weekend of Big Ten home play, freshman Melissa Walbridge broke onto the scene in a big way. Versus Iowa on Oct. 1, the 6-3 middle hitter connected on three of her five errorless attempts with two blocks in two games. The following night against then-No. 1 Minnesota, Walbridge recorded eight kills and a career-high 10 blocks in the five-game match. Her 10 blocks mark the first time that a Penn State player had recorded 10 or more blocks in a match since Cassy Salyer did so at Iowa on Nov. 29, 2003. She also set a career-high with 11 kills against Ohio State on Oct. 20 and fell one block shy of her career-high with nine at Illinois on Oct. 22 in her first collegiate start on the road. In the NCAA match against Maryland, Walbridge exploded with a career-high 15 kills on .636 hitting. Walbridge topped the squad with an average of 1.24 blocks per game. She also topped the Big Ten in conference-only contests with an average of 1.50 blocks per game and ranked first in the league with a .418 hitting percentage.

PENN STATE IS ONE OF ONLY FIVE SCHOOLS IN THE NATION WHOSE WOMEN'S AND MEN'S VOLLEYBALL PROGRAMS HAVE CAPTURED AN NCAA NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP TITLE.

Long Beach State, Stanford, UCLA, USC

25 Is A Good Number

With its three-game win over Illinois on Nov. 20, Penn State secured its 25th win of the 2004 season. In head coach Russ Rose's 26 years, the Nittany Lions have produced 25 seasons with 25 or more wins and 18 seasons with 30 or more wins. Since joining the Big Ten in 1991, Penn State has had 13 seasons with 25 or more wins and eight seasons with 30 or more wins. The only year under Rose in which the Nittany Lions did not reach 25 wins was the 2001 season when they ended the year at 22-8.

Pederson Breaks 1,000

Senior outside hitter Ashley Pederson became just the 16th player in Penn State history to reach the 1,000-kill plateau when she pounded a set from Sam Tortorello in the second game of the match against Stanford on Friday, Sept. 10, to bring the Nittany Lions within two points of the Cardinal, 5-3. Said Pederson of reaching the milestone: "I wasn't really thinking about it, but when it happened I was happy and excited. All I thought about was the match, and it was a good win." Penn State defeated Stanford in five games and Pederson ended her career with 1,340 kills, good for ninth all-time.

Reaching 20 ... 28 Times

The four-game win at Minnesota on Nov. 5 was Penn State's 20th win of the season, marking the 28th consecutive season in the program's 29-year history that the Nittany Lions have reached the 20-win mark. The only year in which the Lions failed to reach the 20-win plateau was in 1976, the first year of the program, in which they only played 20 matches total and finished with a 6-11-3 record.

Block Party

Penn State ranked second in the Big Ten behind Wisconsin in blocking with an average of 3.03 blocks per game. Six Nittany Lion players have recorded five or more blocks in a match on 42 occasions, including Syndie Nadeau (six matches), Melissa Walbridge (seven matches), Sam Tortorello (nine matches), Kim Holm (seven matches), Cassy Salyer (12 matches) and Ashley Pederson (one match). Both Walbridge and Salyer posted 10 blocks in a match, versus Minnesota (Oct. 2) and at Michigan State (Nov. 27) for Walbridge and at Minnesota (Nov. 5) and versus UCLA (Dec. 10) for Salyer.

Three Big Ten POW Awards

Penn State earned three Big Ten Player of the Week awards during the 2004 season.

Junior setter Sam Tortorello picked up her second conference career honor on Sept. 20 and senior outside hitter Syndie Nadeau earned her first two career honors on Nov. 8 and Nov. 29.

Nittany Lions exorcise past demons by sweeping Stanford

By Ann Miller
ADVERTISER STAFF WRITER

Penn State won its first NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship last night. Winning over the demons that plagued it the past two years was just a bonus.

The top-ranked Nittany Lions blew second-ranked Stanford away, 15-2, 15-10, 15-7, before 7,578 at Stan Sheriff Center. The sell-out Hawaii crowd (minus 2,700 no-shows) watched one of the most one-sided finals in NCAA history. Its only sign of life came between the second and third games, when Hawaii senior Heather Bown was announced with the All-America teams.

Maybe the crowd was in shock. Penn State's charge to its first championship — and only the third for a team outside of Hawaii or California — wasn't that surprising, but its dominance was.

A year ago, the Nittany Lions lost their unbeaten season in a five-game NCAA final against Long Beach State. Two years ago, the Cardinal won its fourth NCAA title in five games, also against Penn State.

The Nittany Lions had become the Stanford of the '80s. In those early years, the Cardinal was good enough to get to six final fours, but never good enough to win. That changed in 1992. Going into last night, Stanford was 9-1 and the decade's darling.

The '90's are almost over. The Nittany Lions, who won their last 36 matches after a season-opening loss, are now the team to beat. Seniors Bonnie Bremner, Carrie Schonveld and Lauren Cacciamani, the tournament MVP a second straight year, finished their careers 136-7.

"This is a marvelous occasion for those who have been in the game a long time,' Penn State coach Russ Rose said softly, without a hint of emotion.

Bremner, the All-American setter who had feuded with her coach all season, was just as composed, but didn't try to hide her joy.

"The last two years motivated me," said Bremner, who started every match for four years. "I can't get those back. I lived with that everyday. I wanted to live with something else, something better."

Last night, the Nittany Li-

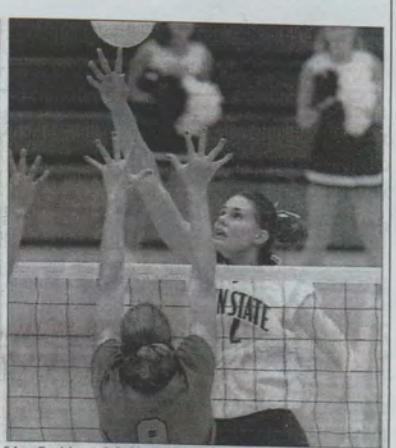
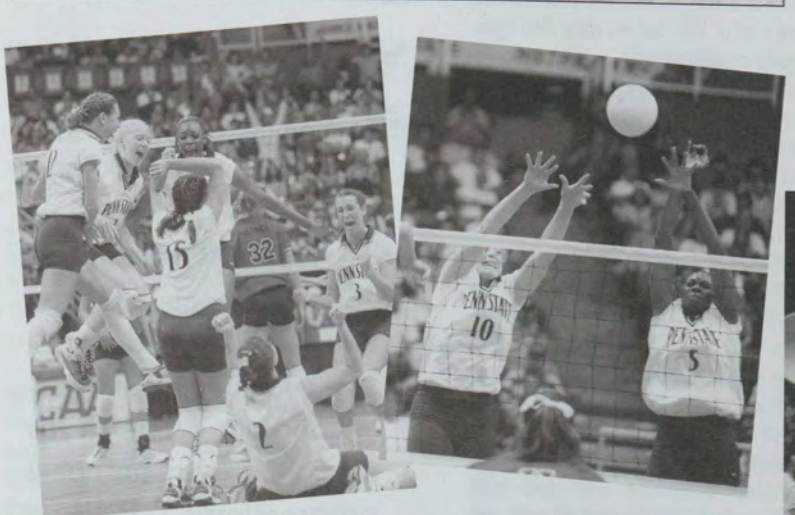
Stanford vs. Penn State



Stanford's Kerri Walsh, left, and Penn State's Lauren Cacciamani shared Player of the Year honors. Stanford's Logan Tom, below, was the Freshman of the Year.

"Losing in the finals two years in a row motivated me to get it done. I knew I couldn't get those back and I lived with that every day. Now I can live with something else."

– Bonnie Bremner on winning the 1999 NCAA National Championship



"The fact that it eluded us after being so close the last two seasons made it sweet to win. But I don't think a National Championship validates a program. We run a good, clean program and that is what I am most proud of."

– Head Coach Russ Rose on winning the National Championship

"There couldn't be any better way to end a senior year. There couldn't be a better way to come home to State College."

– Lauren Cacciamani on winning the National Championship

1999 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

THIRD TIME A CHARM AS LIONS CLAIM NCAA TITLE

HONOLULU--In just one hour and 20 minutes, the top-ranked Penn State women's volleyball team erased memories of five game losses in the previous two title matches by sweeping Stanford for the first NCAA volleyball national championship in school history. The Nittany Lions defeated the Cardinal 15-2, 15-10, 15-7 in front of a sold-out crowd of 10,252 fans at the Stan Sheriff Center at the University of Hawaii.

"I think we set the stage for the win in the first game when we had 10 blocks," said head coach Russ Rose. "We had a great game plan and the players played with passion and enthusiasm right out of the chute. I believe the players are the ones that placed themselves in a position to get into this situation and I thought they handled all the distractions that normally come in a match like this as well as they possible could."

"I think we had a great game plan and the players played with a lot of passion and enthusiasm right out of the chute."

– Head coach Russ Rose on defeating Stanford for the NCAA Championship

It was a perfect ending for the three seniors who had started in the previous two title matches. Each of the trio played one of their best matches of the year, including senior Lauren Cacciamani who was named the Most Outstanding Player after pounding out a match-high 20 kills with eight blocks. Also the 1999 National Co-Player of the Year, she and the rest of the team weren't about to fall behind by two games again this year.

"We did get an opportunity to watch a lot of film and we knew that we had to come out and jump on them," Cacciamani said. "We were going to try to go out there and dictate instead of having them show us what was going to go on. We were planning on going out strong and with a lot of fight."

Seniors Bonnie Bremner and Carrie Schonveld were also named to the NCAA Championship All-Tournament team. Bremner dished out 37 assists with four kills of her own. She also hit .333 with six digs and a pair of blocks. Schonveld had nine kills to go with her team-high 10 digs. The outside hitter hit .368 on the night and also aided at the net with three blocks (1 BS, 2 BA).

The Lions were banking on their previous championship experience and it finally paid off. "We played well and at times we wanted to keep the ball in play and hope that they would make mistakes," Bremner said. "They're a big team that's going to get a lot of kills, but we were also figuring they would make mistakes."

The Penn State blockers created a wall that the Stanford hitters could not avoid. Fueled by Cacciamani's eight blocks, the Lions held the Cardinal to a season-low -.008 hitting percentage as 1999 Co-Player of the Year Kerri Walsh zeroed out (11k-11e-33ta). They also held 1999 Freshman-of-the-Year Logan Tom to negative numbers (7k-10e-31ta, -.097)

Redshirt-freshman Mishka Levy and sophomore Katie Schumacher each added five blocks--both with one solo and four assisted. Each of the six players that rotated to the front row recorded at least one block as Penn State ended the evening with 15 to Stanford's 10.5.

"We blocked incredibly well and with patience," Rose said. "We blocked 10 balls and they had nine hitting errors in addition to that (in the first game), in my opinion they never got into a flow and I think some of their younger players weren't ready for that. We knew what we wanted to do and we recognized that a couple of players were going to be able to get their kills. We had a game plan that we felt comfortable about and believed would be successful."

Schumacher also added nine kills with three each from Levy and sophomore Amanda Rome.

The Lions only trailed during one part of the match. Down 3-1 in game two, the Lions rolled off three-consecutive points to resume the lead and never looked back the rest of the way. It was the first time this season the Cardinal had been swept.

The Lions end the season with a 36-1 mark with the only loss coming in the season opener to Florida on Aug. 27. It was a matter off pulling things together to end the season on a high note.

"We didn't peak at the beginning of the season, obviously. We progressed and got better as the season wore on. The younger people got a lot better and the older people became better leaders and got it together as well. So it was an uphill progression leading towards the end."

– Senior Lauren Cacciamani on losing the first match of the year before closing out the season with 36 straight wins.

"We didn't peak at the beginning of the season, obviously," Cacciamani said. "We lost our first match so we knew we wouldn't go undefeated. We did a good job playing as a team. We progressed and got better as the season wore on. The younger people improved and the older people became better leaders and kept it together as well. So it was an uphill progression leading towards the end."

FINISHING ON TOP

The class of 1999 – Bonnie Bremner, Lauren Cacciamani, Kalna Miller and Carrie Schonveld – had been through it before but their final year had a different, even storybook ending. After losing in the regionals finals as freshmen, these four followed up with a pair of NCAA Semifinal appearances that led to five-game losses in the title match. Those memories were all erased with a three-game sweep of Stanford for the first women's volleyball title in school history.

What the seniors were a part of is nothing short of incredible. They helped Penn State to an amazing 137-5 record with a share of two Big Ten championships (1996 & 1997) before winning it outright in 1998 and 1999. The quartet also compiled a 77-3 mark (.963) in Big Ten matches, including consecutive 20-0 seasons over the past two years. They made Penn State the first school in Big Ten history to win four consecutive crowns and never lost a match at home.

HOME SWEET HOME

Talk about a home-court advantage – the four seniors never even lost a match and dropped only nine games in University Park.

The 1999 senior class took the court in Rec Hall 78 times in their four years and each time they left with a win – a large part of the reason Penn State owns the NCAA record for consecutive home wins at 87.

What's even more amazing is the manner in which Penn State has won at home. During the seniors last 62 matches in Rec Hall, only Wisconsin (twice) and Texas (twice) were able to take a game. But it gets better...in the 80 consecutive home wins the class was a part of, 72 of those were three-game sweeps and the Lions never had to play five games.

2005 TOUR OF ITALY & SLOVENIA

May 10

Dobrodosli ("welcome") to the Penn State Volleyball European tour 2005! Today was our first full day here and we have already done so much! Staying in the scenic city of Izola, we are pretty immersed in Slovenian culture. It's been drizzling a bit but we are staying right on the harbor of the Adriatic coast in the Hotel Marina and it is absolutely gorgeous. The brightly-colored buildings, green mountains and crystal clear sea make everything seem sunny. There is not a whole lot of English spoken here, so we stick out a lil' bit. The people have been pretty nice for the most part though, and we've managed to learn a bit of Slovenian: please = "prosim", thank you = "hvala", how much = "koliko" and "bela kava brez koffeina" = decaff cafe latte... I've already used that one about 4 times. All the girls are having a great time. We practiced last night after we got in and then played our first match today against a club team from Croatia. They were pretty young so we won all 5 games easily. We travel to the capital city of LJubljana tomorrow to play another match and see the sites. We will leave early in the morning to tour the city and then play in the afternoon. Tim and Jo from BringItUSA have really planned out a great trip for us. All the girls are really excited and the parents and boosters are having a good time too... with a few exceptions. So far the Naylors lost their luggage and got locked out of their room, the Janias tried to use a $1USD in an Italian Coke machine and then got their debit card chopped up in Izola, and Mrs. Holm tried to play matchmaker with the manager of a Slovenian pizzeria (which would be alright if the service wasn't so sub-par). So, to sum up... everyone is over their jetlag, we're loving Slovenia, and can't wait to get some more competition under our belts as we continue to travel the world!! Ciao!

Ciao! Greetings from Slovenia. We started off this morning with a European breakfast at The Hotel Marina and then headed off to spend the day in Ljubljana, the capital of Slovenia. Upon arrival, we went to the tourist information center and got brochures of the entire city followed by a train ride to the medieval Ljubljana Castle. The castle is a fine feature of the city and nowadays it is a popular tourist spot. After the train ride back into the city square, we split up for a day of site seeing and fun. Our next step was a bus ride to our match. We played five games against a team called Nova Gorica, winning four of the five games. The match was very lively with a few face shots and a lot of cheering. The owner of the gym we played in also owned a restaurant nearby and he invited us to enjoy his five course cuisine. The food and atmosphere was amazing and the team, coaches, parents, and boosters all had a fabulous time. Tomorrow we leave Slovenia and are off to Venice, Italy.

Today we finally woke up to the blue skies of Slovenia, only to say goodbye as we loaded the bus to continue on to Venice, Italy. After the bus ride we laced up our sneakers, stole the nearest "Vaporetto" (a motorboat used as a canal bus in Venice) and raced to the city - it was all Sam's idea! (Okay, so maybe the dramatic entrance is a slight exaggeration, but you know how girls can be.) After we docked near Piazza San Marco, the real adventures began. We had the entire day to absorb the city, and that we did. These are some of the interesting things I learned today:

1.) Imagine literally stepping into a world unlike anything you have ever seen. Imagine walking through massive crowds of people all speaking different languages. Now imagine seeing absolutely breathtaking architecture and scenery all around you. And finally, imagine 14 young American women (plus one Canadian) gracefully dodging hundreds of swooping pigeons while trying to take it all in at once. Thankfully, we all have cat-like reflexes and nobody was seriously injured.

2.) It's true what they say - Italian men really aren't afraid to sweep a woman off her feet! Maggie, Ashley Fidler, Melissa and I ate a delicious meal along the Grand Canal and as we were thanking the waiters and saying goodbye, the chef came from behind the counter, pinched my cheeks and picked me up in the middle of the restaurant! I am 6-5 ... he was probably 5-7 ... you do the math! Today marks the first time any man has dared to accomplish what he did. Sorprendente! (Amazing!)

On a more serious note, today was a perfect example of why we are so thankful to be in Italy doing what we love, and we are thankful to be sharing it with some of the people who helped make it possible. We were all able to see Venice through our own eyes and learned a lot about the culture and history. We split up into different groups and spent the day shopping and exploring all the city has to offer. It was a beautiful day in Venice, but there is still work to be done! We left the sinking city behind and drove to Pordenone, where we will play the local team tomorrow night. Kim and Kaleena have been playing very well, so tomorrow will be a good opportunity for some new faces to step up and contribute! We will keep you posted, but until next time, there is volleyball to be played and more dessert to be eaten! CIAO!

Boun Giorno fellow Americanos (Good morning fellow Americans!). We spent day 6 in Pordenone. After breakfast most of us enjoyed the downtown shopping of the city. This city was most like the cities that we are used to in the United States. There are more cars and traffic here then in the previous places we have been. Small boutiques lined the streets with an occasional department store. In the afternoon we ventured to the Villa Manin, which is a palace of the former Doge. The enormous structure and beautiful architecture were overwhelming. Unique art lined the walls of one of the sections of the castle, while other sections displayed old weaponry and carriages. The chapel was detailed in elegant artwork. We did not have the opportunity to view the actual rooms of the castle because of restoration, but we were told that Napoleon had slept there and that his room was preserved. From the castle we came back to the hotel to enjoy the traditional Italian pregame meal, which was actually breakfast. This included cereal, fruit, yogurt, and various pastries. On the way to the gym our tour guides indulged us with the translations of a local newspaper article that was about the team being in the town. The article was informative and contained a picture of us receiving our Big Ten trophy. The match was held at a nearby town owned gym. We won four out of the five games that we played against Pallavolo Pordenone in front of a very lively crowd. The match was the most the competitive one since we have been here and was fun to play in. After we played, we ate dinner (at 10:30 at night). It is custom to eat pasta as an appetizer, but we did not know this before so most of us ate it as a meal. Little did we know that we were also having meat, fries, salad, and dessert! It was a great ending to a wonderful day! Arrivederci (goodbye)!!

Ciao fellow Americans and Canadians,

Well, our arrival into Pesaro came on our official graduation day, had we been in State College. So, as our final college project, here is our journal entry! On the bus yesterday, driving from Pordenone to Pesaro, we had to present our research on the Marche region to everyone on the bus, complete with our graduation caps!

We are planning on spending 3 days total in this region, the first two in Pesaro, and the third in Comunanza. The region is pronounced "lay markay," and in English, it translates to "the Marches." The region lies on the eastern seaboard in central Italy, bordered by the Adriatic Sea to the east, and the Appenine mountains to the central part of the country. Pesaro is the capital city of this province, and is a bustling seaside resort town. Fortunately, we're here before most of the tourist season begins, so we've had the town all to ourselves!

When we arrived to our beachfront hotel yesterday, we all ate lunch together, before we had a bit of down time last night. A few of us had the opportunity to accompany Coach Rose and Tim Kelly (in charge of our tour, he runs Bring It USA) to a professional women's volleyball match in a small town about 1.5 hours away from here. The gymnasium was full of enthusiastic and loud spectators, and it was a lot of fun! It was a match between the 2nd and 3rd place teams in the A2 division of the Italian professional league, with the winner of this match having the opportunity to move up to the A1 league next year. Wiz Bachman, former UCLA standout, was playing for the team that ended up losing in four games.

Today we had some free time to take in the sites of Pesaro, which is the hometown of famed opera composer, Giaochino Rossini. This evening we had a chance to play our fourth match, against a team from Gabiche, Italy, about 15 minutes from Pesaro. We won the four games we played in the match, and every member of the team had a chance to play.

Tomorrow we'll have a chance to go to and Italian Catholic mass if we want, before getting back on the road and heading over to Comunanza. From what we've heard so far, it's a small mountain town, about 3 blocks long and 1 block wide. We'll be there only one night, and the gentleman who runs the hotel/restaurant where we'll be staying is so excited to host all of us! People drive from miles around to eat at his restaurant, so we're looking forward to tasting the food for ourselves!! We have two matches left on this trip, one tomorrow night in Comunanza, and the last in Rome on Tuesday night. Buonas sera from Italy!

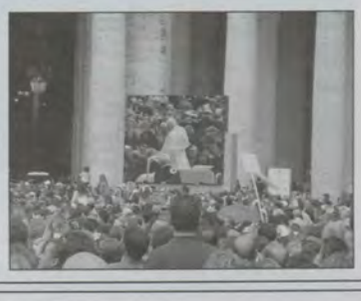
After winding through the Italian hillsides, our team arrived in the town of Comunanza. The town was small with a population of around 3,000 people. We stayed where executives generally stayed when they would visit the major factory just outside of the town. It was very nice place to stay as five of the girls got to stay in a 3-bedroom apartment that had two bathrooms and a dining room. Once we got settled in our rooms the team got on our jerseys and walked to the gym. We played a club team from Amandola. Their team was short a few players so Ashley Fidler volunteered to play with the other team. We won the match in 3 games, while Kris Brown and Kaleena even got a chance to play front row. That night we had what most of the team considered our best meal of the trip. It was a traditional Italian family meal with multiple courses and elaborate dishes. One of the first dishes we ate was intestine and eggs. It was a long meal the lasted late into the night.

The next morning we were off to begin our long drive to Rome. We wove through the mountains and hills on roads that you wouldn't think buses could travel through. After nearly a five-hour trip we finally arrived in Rome, the 'eternal city.' We checked into the hotel and were immediately off to the Metro station just a few blocks away. The Metro is very small and crowded because the designers of the Metro wanted to avoid digging railways under ancient Roman architecture. Our first stop took us to see the Spanish Steps, which was a series of three levels of steps leading up to a church. The lining of the steps was covered in flowers and it was a great place to take a team picture. Our next stop was the Trevi Fountain. This was the first elaborate sculpture work we saw in Rome and we were in awe. It is said that you must throw a coin into the fountain but you must throw the coin with your back facing the fountain. The number of coins you throw also determines your fortune. One coin and you'll return to Rome, two coins and you'll fall in love. With our backs facing the fountain, Maggie, Cassy, Fidler, and I threw in two coins each.

Our last stop of the day was to visit the Pantheon. As we walked inside we were amazed by the massive pillars holding the structure up. They lead us into a large circular dome with more sculptures and a roof with a giant circular hole allowing sunlight to pour inside. The basement of the building is also a resting place for people such as Raffaello a famous painter, Voltaire a philosopher, Murrie and Piere Currie both famous scientists as well as Victor Hugo the first president of unified Italy. After seeing the Pantheon we were all tired and grabbed some dinner, found the Metro and went back to our hotel.

Today (Tuesday, May 17th) we got up and again took the Metro to see the Coliseum. I stepped out of the station and all I could see was the building. The structure was built between 12AD and 80AD and most of it still remains standing today. When it was first built it was called the Amphitheatre Flavium, and held up to 50,000 people. It was used to hold battles between animals and humans along with chariot races and mock naval battles.. The rest of the day we were able to tour around and explore the city of Rome. Other sites we saw included the Forum, the Arch of Constantine, and the Monument of Vittoriale. All of the sites were unique and amazing in their own respect. It was odd to see such monuments scattered amongst current shops and restaurants including McDonalds.

Tonight we played our 6th and final match in a town of Usaro, which is thirty minutes to an hour away from Rome depending on traffic. We played one of our more competitive matches against a club team called As Fidia Ladispoli. We won all five games although it was a bittersweet victory. It was the last time our three seniors; Tab, Syndie and Ashley would play in their PSU uniforms. The club team had ordered pizza for us and we shared it with them before getting on the bus and heading back to Rome.



Tomorrow is our last full day. We are going to see the Vatican City in the morning and the Pope may be speaking. The trip is almost over and it is going very fast but I'm very excited to get up tomorrow and see the Sistine Chapel.

REC HALL TO HOST NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS IN 2005-2006

Penn State University and Rec Hall have been chosen as one of four host sites for the 2005 NCAA Tournament Regional Championships to be held in December on dates still to be determined. Penn State joins the Qwest Center in Omaha, Neb., and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, Maples Pavilion and Stanford University and the G. Rollie White Coliseum and Texas A&M University as the four pre-determined sites.

The NCAA Regional Semifinals will be held on Dec. 9 with the winners advancing to the NCAA Regional Final on Dec. 10.

"We are thrilled to have the opportunity to bring our regional championships to these four outstanding sites," commented Julie Hermann, chair of the NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball Committee. "Having the opportunity to pre-select our regionals has made these rounds of the championship stronger than ever and a better student-athlete experience. The volleyball committee felt this year's selections were very capable of building on this success and continuing to take it to the next level."

The Nittany Lions have hosted at least one round of the NCAA Tournament in 18 of the possible 24 years, including the last 15 consecutive seasons. The Nittany Lions have played 31 NCAA Tournament matches at Rec Hall since 1981, boasting a 29-2 record in those contests. The last time Penn State and Rec Hall hosted an NCAA Regional Championship was 1999, the same year the Nittany Lions claimed the NCAA title.

"We are very excited to be hosting a women's volleyball NCAA Regional Championship in 2005," said Penn State Director of Athletics Tim Curley. "Penn State is a great school for volleyball, both men's and women's, and we are honored to be chosen to host this event. We take great pride in putting together high-caliber events that create an experience for the fans and the teams involved, and I have no doubt that the NCAA Regional Championship will meet our high Penn State standard and showcase some great volleyball."

Penn State is one of only four teams to participate in all 24 NCAA Tournaments since its inception in 1981, joining Pacific, Stanford and UC Santa Barbara. The Nittany Lions hold a 43-23 all-time NCAA Tournament record.

"We're very appreciative that Penn State has the opportunity to host an NCAA Regional," said head coach Russ Rose, who has compiled a 829-150 overall record through his 26 seasons. "We realize that hosting an event of this caliber entails a great commitment by the University and we're pleased that Penn State and our administration supports volleyball in the great way that it does to give us this chance."

The 2005 NCAA Championship will be held in San Antonio, Texas, at the Alamodome on Dec. 15 and 17. The 2006 Championship will be held in Omaha, Neb., at the Qwest Center and Arena on Dec. 14 and 16. The 2007 Championship will be held in Sacramento, Calif., at ARCO Arena on Dec. 13 and 15.

Penn State will also be the host of the 2006 NCAA Men's Volleyball National Collegiate Championship, to be held May 4 and 6 at Rec Hall. The Nittany Lions have hosted the men's national championship three times, including the culmination of the 2002 season in which economic impact on the region was estimated at more than $2.3 million. The total attendance for the event featuring Penn State, Ball State, Pepperdine and Hawaii was more than 10,600 fans. A standing-room-only crowd of 5,259 watched Hawaii and Pepperdine advance to the national title match with more than 5,350 fans witnessing Hawaii take home the NCAA crown.

State College, Pa.; Oct. 6, 1997 - Penn State can now say it is truly the number one team in the country, as tonight it beat the USA Volleyball Women's National Team, 15-8, 15-13, 13-15, 15-12. Rec Hall was full of electricity as 2,211 fans cheered the Lions on in route to becoming the first college team to take a game from Team USA, much less win a match.

"We were aided by the home crowd and the excitement of the event---We had nothing to lose," said Penn State head coach Russ Rose. "I thought we played hard and competed hard. It was a great team victory."

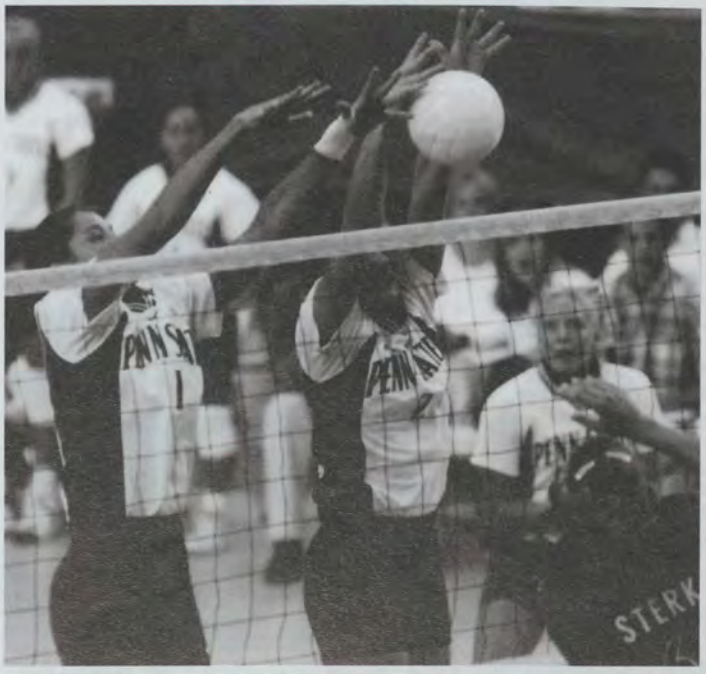
Sophomore middle hitter Lauren Cacciamani (Paramus, N.J.) posted match-highs of 18 kills and 11 blocks to lead the Nittany Lions. Outside hitter Carrie Schonveld (Portage, Mich.) notched 14 kills, nine blocks and a team-high 16 digs, while junior outside Christy Cochran (Bethlehem, Pa.) posted 14 kills and 14 digs. In addition, sophomore setter Bonnie Bremner (Lisle, Ill.) had 56 assists and 15 digs.

Team USA was paced by outside hitter Karrie Downey and right side Allison Weston, who both notched 16 kills and 20 digs. Former Penn State All-American Salima Davidson, now the United States' starting setter and team captain, had 63 assists, 10 digs and five kills.

"I think they played a great match, they played like Penn State and that's the bottom line, " Davidson noted. "We played hard, but we could have played harder."

Penn State won game one easily, after racing to a 10-1 lead. Early on, game two was much the same, as the Lions used their momentum to go up 7-3, but Team USA battled back to take a 10-7 lead. However, Penn State's block woke up, as it rallied to take the game 15-13. For the match, Penn State out-blocked the national squad 22.5-11.

The third game was all Team USA, as it seized the lead early, and held on down the stretch. The final frame was a see-saw battle, as the lead changed hands numerous times. With the score tied at 12-12, Cacciamani put down a spike and senior middle hitter Terri Zemaitis (Downers Grove, Ill.) and junior opposite Lindsay Anderson (Crystal Lake, Ill.) had consecutive blocks to close out the match.



➤ Emily Stout (1) and Lauren Cacciamani (2) record one of Penn State's 22.5 blocks in the match against Team USA.

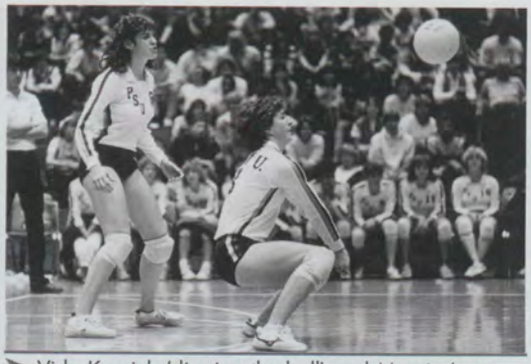
HONORS & AWARDS



➤ Vida Kernich (digging the ball) and Marcia Leap led the 1984 Lions to a 30-6 record and an A-10 title.

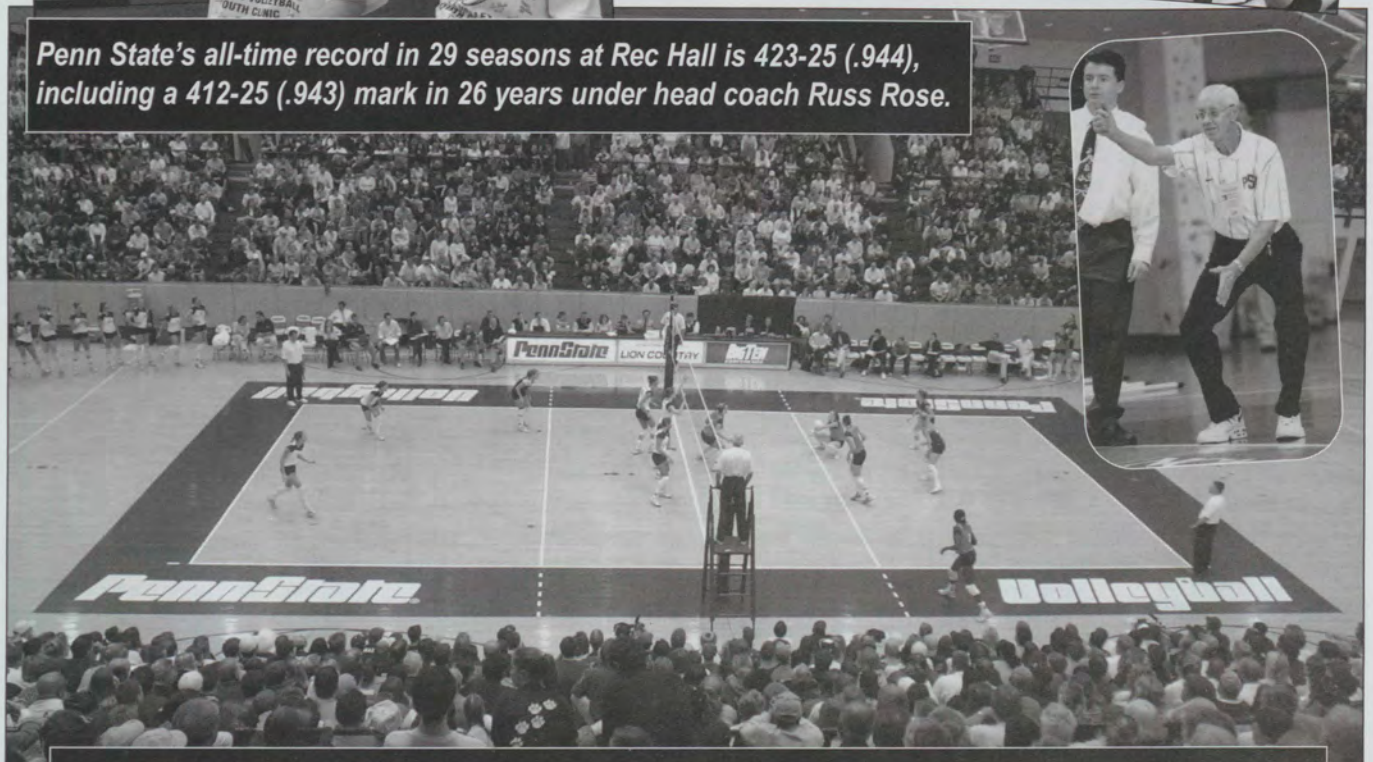
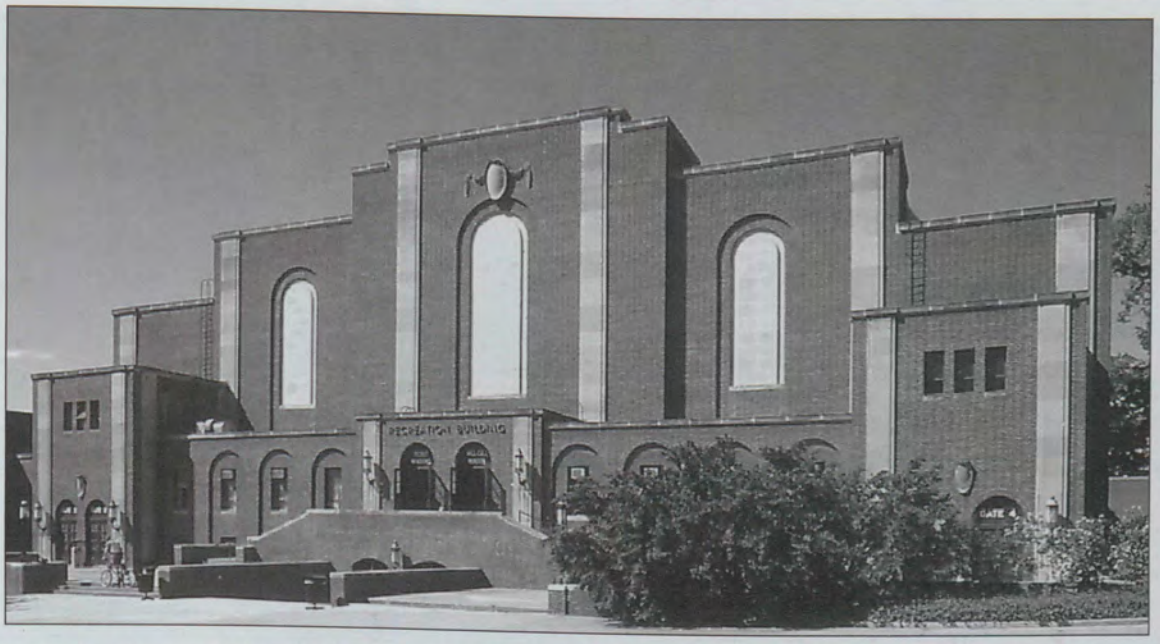
Penn State's all-time record in 29 seasons at Rec Hall is 423-25 (.944), including a 412-25 (.943) mark in 26 years under head coach Russ Rose.

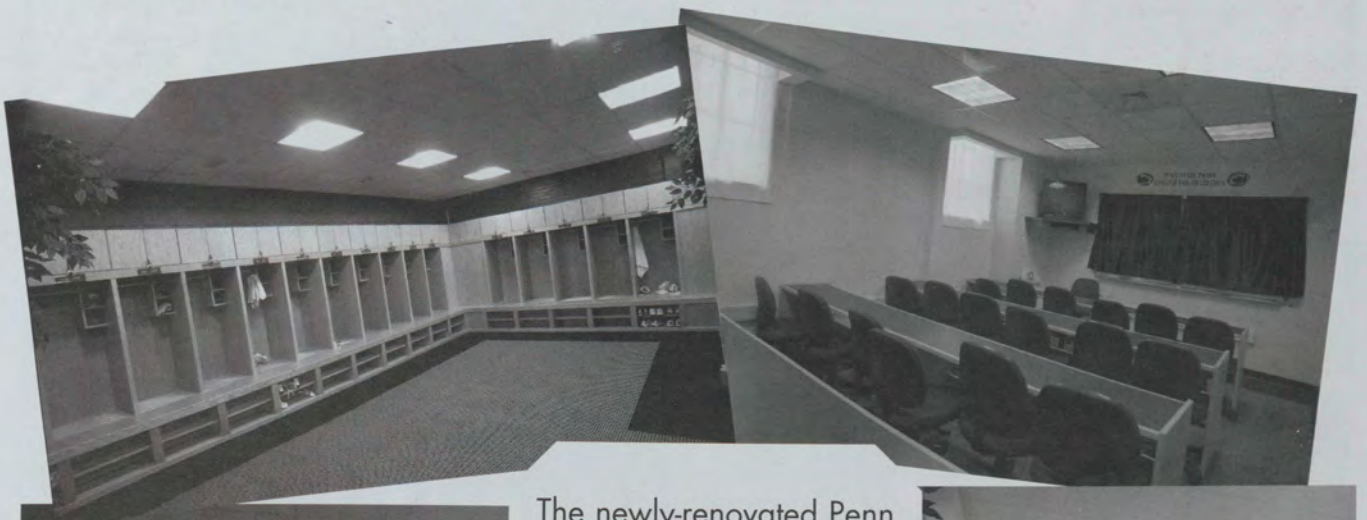


Over the past six years, the Nittany Lions hold a home match record of 103-10. Penn State will enter the 2005 season having won 145 of its last 171 games (85%) in the friendly confines of Rec Hall.

REC HALL - HOME OF THE NITTANY LIONS



Recreation Building, or Rec Hall as it is affectionately known, is the home of the Penn State men's and women's volleyball, men's and women's gymnastics and wrestling teams. Built in 1929, the gymnasium has hosted several different national and international competitions in various sports, most recently the 2002 NCAA Men's Volleyball National Collegiate Championship. Rec Hall will serve as host for one of four of the 2005 NCAA Women's Volleyball Regionals and also the 2006 NCAA Men's Volleyball National Collegiate Championship.



The newly-renovated Penn State women's volleyball locker room, located in historic Rec Hall, features a meeting and scouting room, a lounge for studying and relaxing and state-of-the-art personal lockers for each student-athlete.

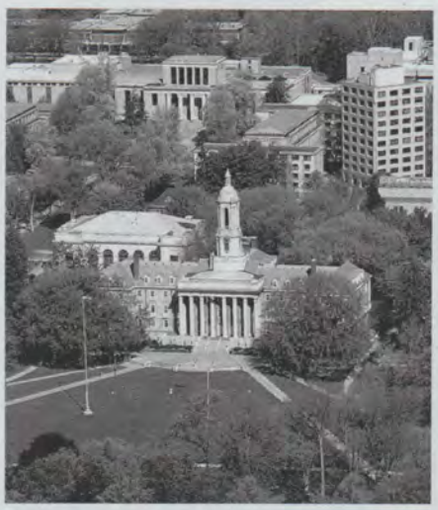
Penn State University

THE UNIVERSITY

When Penn State opened its doors in 1859, 69 students enrolled. Today, the University reaches more than 5 million Pennsylvanians each year — not only in traditional classroom settings, but through a variety of programs ranging from Cooperative Extension to continuing education workshops, from sports camps to public broadcasting. Plus, thousands of additional students in all 50 states and more than 80 countries take advantage of learning opportunities through Penn State's World Campus and other outreach programs. A lot has changed over the past 150 years, but one guiding principle has not: Penn State still is committed to improving the quality of life for the citizens of Pennsylvania and beyond through teaching, research, and public service.

The state legislature chartered Penn State in 1855 at the request of the Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society. However, it took four years to develop the curriculum, recruit faculty and students, and find a location for the new college, whose goal was to apply scientific principles to farming — a radical departure from the traditional curriculum grounded in mathematics, rhetoric, and classical languages. The college had to be located in a suitable agricultural area, and many communities vied for the privilege of being home to the institution. Centre County was selected when farmer and ironmaster James Irvin of Bellefonte donated 200 acres for the campus.

Penn State's first president, Evan Pugh, drew on the scientific education he had received in Europe to expand the curriculum to include other scientific studies and engineering. Pugh and similar visionaries in other states won federal support for their innovative ideas in 1862, when Congress passed the Morrill Land-Grant Act. The act enabled states to sell federal land, invest the proceeds, and use the income to support colleges "where the leading object shall be, without excluding scientific and classical studies...to teach agriculture and the mechanic arts (engineering)...in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in all the pursuits and professions of life." In 1863, the legislature designated Penn State the Commonwealth's sole land-grant institution. But Pugh died the following year, the income from land sales was small, and the concept of land-grant education was temporarily forgotten. The college drifted, not being especially distinctive for any kind of study. One notable event during those years was the admission of the first women students in 1871.



In 1882, George W. Atherton became Penn State's seventh president. He introduced engineering studies, and the college soon became one of the nation's ten largest undergraduate engineering schools. He broadened the liberal arts, and Professor of English Fred Pattee taught the nation's first course in American literature (heretofore considered an unworthy stepchild of English literature). Professor of Agriculture Henry Armsby founded the Agricultural Experiment Station, which helped to put Penn State on the map in the context of scientific research. Impressed with these accomplishments, the state legislature authorized regular appropriations to the college beginning in 1887. Also under Atherton's leadership, Penn State graduated its first international student (1890) and African American student (1905).

Through the first half of the 1900s, Penn State focused on undergraduate education and outreach. Enrollment surpassed 5,000 in 1936, by which time the college had become the Commonwealth's largest source of baccalaureate degrees. Also in the 1930s, the administration of President Ralph Hetzel launched a series of branch campuses throughout Pennsylvania for students who, because of Depression-era economics, could not afford to leave home to get a college education. The centers offered the first year or two of undergraduate studies and were the predecessors of today's system of campuses located throughout the Commonwealth.

At first, outreach programs were mainly agricultural. Penn State pioneered in correspondence courses, disseminating scientific knowledge to farmers eager to find more efficient ways of growing crops and raising livestock. The college also worked with local and federal governments to implement a statewide system of agricultural and home economics agents who advised on issues as diverse as family life, nutrition, and food preservation. But by the 1930s, Penn State also had begun outreach programs in the liberal arts, engineering, and the sciences.

Research developed more slowly. Nevertheless, by 1950 Penn State had won distinction for investigations in dairy science, acoustics, building insulation, diesel engines, and other specialized fields. In 1953, The Pennsylvania State College became The Pennsylvania State University to show that its research activities could stand on the same level as teaching and outreach. (The name change touched off a debate about the wisdom of changing the name of State College borough, but in the end the borough's name survived while the campus got the postal address of University Park.)

In the 1960s, Penn State underwent tremendous expansion to meet the growing needs of the baby boom generation, just then coming of college age. The physical plant tripled in value, and hundreds of acres of farm and forest land were added (land now occupied, for example, by Innovation Park at Penn State and by the Russell Larson Agricultural Research Center at Rock Springs). Total enrollment at all campuses climbed to 40,000 by 1970.

Today, enrollment stands at about 83,000 students at 24 locations statewide, including The Milton S. Hershey Medical Center — a college of medicine and teaching hospital — established in 1967; the Pennsylvania College of Technology, a wholly owned Penn State affiliate since 1989; and The Dickinson School of Law, merged with the University in 1997. Penn State continues to make an important impact on life in Pennsylvania in many ways. Over 241,000 alumni — more than half of all living Penn State alumni — live and work in the Commonwealth. Undergraduates today can choose from about 160 courses of study. At the graduate level, Penn State awards more Ph. D.'s than any other institution in the Commonwealth. Penn State research generates 14,000 jobs and has affiliations with more than 400 Pennsylvania companies. Research activity has propelled Penn State into the nation's top ten universities in receiving patents, which typically generate business, jobs, and economic growth among spin-off companies.

After nearly 150 years of growth and change, Penn State remains committed, in the land-grant tradition, to make available a high-quality education at the lowest possible cost, and to nurture a learning environment that welcomes a diversity of cultures and ideas.

NITTANY LION LEGEND

Penn State's athletic symbol, chosen by the student body in 1906, is the mountain lion which once roamed central Pennsylvania.

H.D. "Joe" Mason, a member of the Class of 1907, conducted a one-man campaign to choose a school mascot after seeing the Princeton tiger on a trip with the Penn State baseball team to that New Jersey campus. A student publication sponsored the campaign to select a mascot and Penn State is believed to be the first college to adopt the lion as a mascot.

Since Penn State is located in the Nittany Valley at the foot of Mount Nittany, the lion was designated as a Nittany Lion. In regional folklore, Nittany (or Nita-Nee) was a valorous Indian princess in whose honor the Great Spirit caused Mount Nittany to be formed. A later namesake, daughter of chief O-Ko-Cho, who lived near the mouth of Penn's Creek, fell in love with Malachi Boyer, a trader. The tearful maiden and her lost lover became legend and her name was given to the stately mountain.

THE NITTANY LION SHRINE

Penn State's Nittany Lion shrine was dedicated on Oct. 24, 1942, during Homecoming Weekend. Animal sculptor Heinz Warneke and stonecutter Joseph Garatti molded a 13-ton block of Indiana limestone into the most recognizable symbol of Penn State. The shrine was chosen from six models submitted by Warneke.

The shrine is a gift of the Class of 1940 and rests in a natural setting of trees near Recreation Building. The site was chosen because of its accessibility, the surrounding trees and the fact that the sculpture would not be dwarfed by nearby buildings.

BLUE & WHITE

Penn State's student-athletes are instantly identified by their blue and white uniforms — but those weren't the original school colors.

A three-member committee representing the sophomore, junior and senior classes was appointed in October of 1887 to develop color options from which the student body would select the school's official colors. Dark pink and black was the unanimous choice of the student body after considering the color combinations presented by the committee.

Soon many students and the baseball team were sporting pink and black striped blazers and caps. However, problems arose when the pink faded to white after several weeks of exposure to the sun. The students then opted for blue, rather than black, and white. The official announcement of the new choice was made on March 18, 1890.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT DR. GRAHAM SPANIER

Graham B. Spanier has been president of Penn State for more than a decade. As leader of one of the nation's largest and most-respected universities, with 36,000 employees on 24 campuses, an annual budget of nearly $3 billion and a physical plant of 1,400 buildings, he has been identified nationally as a president who is making a difference.

During his tenure as Penn State's 16th president, Dr. Spanier has launched a number of historic initiatives that not only have helped elevate Penn State's reputation, but also have positioned it as a model student-centered university.

Dr. Spanier has overseen the creation of the Schreyer Honors College, the School of Information Sciences and Technology, and Penn State's World Campus. He also was the driving force behind Penn State's merger with The Dickinson School of Law, which will now have both Carlisle and University Park campuses. He led the University's most recent fundraising campaign, raising nearly $1.4 billion, and is overseeing the largest building program in the history of Penn State, resulting in a number of landmark facilities.

Under his leadership over the past 10 years, sponsored research at Penn State has increased dramatically to more than $600 million annually.

As part of his goal to better serve students, President Spanier has created a number of groundbreaking initiatives such as LateNight Penn State, a Newspaper Readership Program that has become a national model for universities across the country and an online music service that dozens of other institutions have emulated.

Dr. Spanier is a magician who once served as the opening act for Penn and Teller. He has been known to substitute for the Nittany Lion mascot and has performed with Penn State's Musical Theatre students, Blue Band, and the Glee Club. In addition, he plays washboard with The Deacons of Dixieland band and the Phyrst Phamly. He holds a commercial pilot's license and has run with the bulls in Pamplona. He also hosts his own live, viewer-call-in program on public television and radio.

Dr. Spanier's prior positions include chancellor of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, provost and vice president for academic affairs at Oregon State University, and vice provost for undergraduate studies at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. He previously served Penn State from 1973-1982 as a member of the faculty and in three administrative positions. He holds academic appointments as professor of human development and family studies, sociology, demography, and family and community medicine.

A national leader in higher education, Dr. Spanier served as chair of the Board of Directors of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges and the Big Ten Conference Council of Presidents/Chancellors. He is a member of the Bowl Championship Series Presidential Oversight Committee, vice chair of the Worldwide Universities Network, was a founding member of the Internet2 board, and is on the board of the Universities Research Association. He served as chair of the NCAA Division I Board of Directors, led the Kellogg Commission on the Future of State and Land-Grant Universities, served on the Board of Trustees of the National 4-H Council, the Board of Directors of Junior Achievement International, and served as chair of the Board of the Christian Children's Fund.

His wife, Sandra, is an English professor specializing in 20th-century American literature and serves as the general editor of Hemingway's letters. They have two children: Brian, a 2003 finance graduate of Penn State, and Hadley, a senior majoring in marketing at Penn State.

➤ University President Dr. Graham Spanier is hoisted by students during THON, an event that has raised millions for childhood cancer.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS TIM CURLEY

In his second decade as the architect of the Penn State Intercollegiate Athletics program, Tim Curley's dynamic and passionate leadership has been the driving force behind the Nittany Lions' tremendous level of athletic and academic achievement.

A Penn State graduate and member of the athletics staff for more than 25 years, Curley was named Director of Athletics on December 30, 1993. During his more than 11 years directing Penn State's comprehensive program, Curley has seen Nittany Lion and Lady Lion squads capture 11 NCAA Championships, 37 Big Ten titles and numerous individual national and conference crowns.

In 2004-05, 20 Penn State squads were represented in their respective NCAA Championships, with five teams earning Top 10 finishes. Three Penn State teams won Big Ten championships — women's soccer, women's swimming and diving and women's volleyball.

Include the 30 All-Americans and 36 first-team All-Big Ten selections, an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship winner and a student-athlete graduation rate of 83 percent and 2004-05 will be regarded as another triumphant year of Success With Honor for the Nittany Lions and Lady Lions.

In June, Curley was elected by the members of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) to serve as president for 2005-06. He is the first Penn State athletic director to serve as president of NACDA, which is a professional and educational association for more than 6,100 athletic administrators at more than 1,600 institutions in the United States, Canada and Mexico. Curley was elected a NACDA officer in 2002.

As he surveys the athletic program he has been instrumental in assembling, Tim Curley can't help but be proud of the athletic and academic accomplishments of Penn State's 750 student-athletes in 29 varsity sports:

- During a 2004 visit to the University Park campus, NCAA President Myles Brand stated, "Penn State is the poster child for doing it right in college sports."
- In the initial 12 years of the NACDA Directors' Cup all-sports survey, Penn State has finished in the top 25 every year, earning seven Top 10 finishes and four Top Five placings.
- In the most recent comprehensive look at the 117 colleges and universities participating in Division I football and men's basketball, U.S. News and World Report selected Penn State as one of 10 Division I-A institutions for its College Sports Honor Roll in 2002. Data on gender equity, number of varsity sports, graduation rates, sanctions, and wins and losses were analyzed to determine the listing.
- Penn State has captured 11 NCAA Championships in men's and women's volleyball; men's and women's fencing and men's gymnastics in Curley's first 11 1/2 years at the helm. Nittany Lion and Lady Lion teams have made 19 NCAA "Final Four" appearances during his tenure.
- Penn State also has established a reputation as a force in the highly competitive Big Ten — winning 41 regular-season or tournament titles in football, baseball, women's basketball, field hockey, men's gymnastics, men's soccer, women's soccer, men's and women's swimming and diving, women's track and field and women's volleyball. The Lions have won 11 Big Ten championships over the past three years.
- The 2004 NCAA Graduation Rates Report showed that 83 percent of Nittany Lion and Lady Lion student-athletes who began their careers in 1997-98 graduated within six years, well above the 62 percent national average. The 83 percent rate was tied for Penn State's best performance in the 14-year history of the report.
- For the second time in three years, Penn State student-athletes posted the highest graduation rate among the nation's public institutions, tied with the University of Virginia at 83 percent. Penn State and Virginia tied for the sixth-highest graduation rate overall among the nation's 117 Division I-A institutions.
- The 2004 NCAA report also showed that Penn State's African-American student-athletes posted a 69 percent graduation rate, substantially higher than the 51 percent national average.
- During the 2004 Fall semester, a record-tying 60 percent (440 total) of all active Penn State student-athletes earned a grade-point average of 3.0 or above. Among the 440 student-athletes above a 3.0, a record 192 earned a 3.50 GPA or higher, for a record 26.4 percent of all active student-athletes, to earn Dean's List recognition.
- A school-record 253 student-athletes earned Academic All-Big Ten honors in 2004-05, the third consecutive year the mark was broken. Penn State has led all Big Ten institutions in academic all-conference honorees six of the past nine years.
- Three student-athletes earned CoSIDA Academic All-America accolades in 2004-05, giving Penn State 116 such selections through June 2005, with 73 in the last 11 years under Curley's leadership.

Curley was recognized for his efforts in helping Penn State maintain its stature as one of the nation's premier athletic programs in 2003 with his selection as the Northeast Athletic Director-of-the-Year by NACDA. He was one of just four regional Division I-A honorees.

To continue to give the coaching staff and student-athletes the resources to succeed academically and athletically, Curley is guiding the most ambitious fund-raising and athletics facilities campaigns in the department's history. The initial goal is to raise $100 million for Intercollegiate Athletics by June 2008.

In 2003, ICA announced that it had raised more than $134 million in the seven-year Grand Destiny Campaign, easily surpassing the initial and revised goals of $90 and $125 million, respectively, in private funding for Athletics.

One of the recently completed capital projects was the 12,500-seat expansion and renovation of Beaver Stadium, which has grown to a capacity of 107,282. The project, which was completed in 2001, included private suite and club level seating previously unavailable and the construction of the magnificent Penn State All-Sports Museum to house Penn State's impressive collection of sports memorabilia.

Other facility projects completed in recent years include the construction of the Lasch Football Building, Ashenfelter Indoor Multi-Sport Facility, Sarni Tennis Center and Bigler Field Complex and renovations to the White Building, East Area Locker Room and Jeffrey Field.

In May, construction began on a new baseball stadium for the Nittany Lions — Medlar Field at Lubrano Park. The Penn State baseball team will share the state-of-the-art facility with a short-season minor league team to be owned by the Altoona Curve franchise. The stadium is scheduled for completion in June 2006.

Curley also oversees the expansive intramural/club sport programs — which included a fourth consecutive national championship in men's ice hockey in 2003 and the women's rugby national tile in 2004 — on the University Park campus, as well as general recreational activities. He's charged as well with responsibility for the athletic and recreational programs at Penn State's Commonwealth Campuses.

It is a dizzying pace for Curley, who is a regular presence at athletic events, team banquets, alumni meetings and regional and national meetings of athletic administrators.

In 2004, Curley was appointed to a special NCAA task force that reviewed Division I recruiting bylaws and to the NCAA Division I Football Issues Committee. The task force reviewed current NCAA rules and submitted recommendations to the Division I Management Council in April. The NCAA Division I Football Issues Committee is charged with oversight of all issues pertaining to NCAA Division I-A and I-AA football.

In addition, NCAA President Myles Brand asked Curley to participate in meetings with the Coalition on Intercollegiate Athletics and selected directors of athletics, NCAA staff and faculty athletics representatives. The individuals gather to discuss issues of mutual concern, with the summer meeting focused on fiscal responsibility and student-athlete welfare.

Curley previously was a member of the NCAA Division I Championships/Competition Cabinet and served as chair of the NCAA Postseason Bowl Certification Sub-Committee.

It is no exaggeration to say Tim Curley is someone who knows the Penn State athletic program from the ground up. A State College product, he grew up across the street from Old Beaver Field where some of his most memorable days as a youngster were spent there and in Rec Hall. He parked cars, sold game programs and served as a baseball batboy.

The top assistant to Athletic Director Jim Tarman, Curley was named Director of Athletics on December 30, 1993, when Tarman retired after 35 years as a Penn State athletic administrator.

Curley, 51, has been a full-time member of the athletic staff since he joined the department as a graduate assistant football coach. A product of State College Area High School where he played basketball and football for Jim Williams' undefeated 1971 team, Curley walked on as a football player only to have his career cut short by injuries. After earning his Bachelor's degree in health and physical education in 1976, he served a year as a graduate assistant coach while pursuing his Master's degree in counselor education.

Curley was named the Lions' first full-time football recruiting coordinator in 1978 and was instrumental in identifying and recruiting a number of members of the 1982 national championship team. In 1981, he was named assistant to the athletic director where he was involved with the day-to-day operations of the department.

Curley was active in the development of the Academic Support Center for Student-Athletes; the Penn State Sports Medicine Center; the Varsity "S" Club and the Football Letterman's Club during his tenure as assistant to the athletic director. He also was instrumental in putting in place Penn State's first NCAA compliance program and acted as the department's compliance coordinator for five years before surrendering those responsibilities when he was named Associate Athletic Director in 1992.

He is married to the former Melinda Harr of Washington, Pa., and has two children — a daughter, Devon, and a son, Tanner. Curley was born on April 28, 1954.

This publication about the 2005 Penn State Women's Volleyball team has been prepared to aid members of the media covering the Nittany Lions this season. Additional information is available by contacting Jen Armson in the Penn State Athletic Communications Office at (814) 865-1757.

CREDENTIALS

Members of the media should contact the Penn State Athletic Communications Office to request season or individual game credentials for Nittany Lion volleyball home matches. The press row at Rec Hall is located on the upper track level of the building on the south side.

Individual game requests should be made no later than noon the day prior to the game and should be directed to Jen Armson, Assistant Athletic Communications Director, at (814) 865-1757 or jma19@psu.edu, or faxed on official letterhead to Armson's attention at (814) 863-3165. Credentials will be available for pick-up at the Rec Hall Will Call window the evening of the contest.

Members of the media are allowed to park in the Nittany Parking Deck adjacent to the Nittany Lion Inn, where they are allowed to park for free with their credential.

INTERVIEW POLICIES

Please direct all requests for interviews with coaches or players to Armson. Members of the Penn State coaching staff are usually available during weekday mornings and afternoon practices and are available after matches.

Members of the volleyball team will be available for interviews before and after scheduled practices, but will not be available for interviews on the day of a game, home or away, until the post-game press conference. After home matches, head coach Russ Rose and requested players will be available for interviews in Rec Hall, room 142. Contact Armson for individual post-match interviews and away match requests. Players will return telephone calls; home and cell phone numbers will not be released.

For opposing players and coaches, please contact Armson who will alert the visiting SID, if available, or set up interviews if possible.

Penn State adheres to the NCAA photography policies. Photographers are permitted on the volleyball court but must remain in the designated area.

E-MAIL AND WEB UPDATES

While game notes and updated stats will be distributed to local media via email and the web on a regular basis, members of the media may request that they be added to the Penn State Athletic Communications Office's women's volleyball e-mail group. Subscribers will receive game notes, game stories and other information via e-mail. To subscribe, send a request to jma19@psu.edu. Please identify yourself and organization in your request as this service is only available to members of the media.

TELEPHONES

There will be at least one phone provided on press row for media to make calling card or collect phone calls. Please alert Jen Armson if additional phone lines are needed, and arrangements will be made. Furthermore, additional phone lines and a fax machine will be provided in the Rec Hall Media Room (Room 301).

DAILY MEDIA SERVICES

For the most up-to-date Nittany Lion volleyball news and statistics, visit the official website of the Penn State Athletic Department at www.GoPSUsports.com. Game notes and updated statistics for the upcoming match will be posted no later than the day before the contest.

GAMEDAY MEDIA SERVICES

The Penn State Athletic Communications staff will provide pre-match notes, scorecards, rosters, updated statistics and results for each team in the Rec Hall Media Room (Room 301, adjacent to press row off of the track) prior to each match. Box scores and any postmatch notes will be distributed approximately 10 minutes after the conclusion of the match at the post-match press conference.

An Associated Press-style game story will also be produced by the Penn State Athletic Communications Office. Members of the media may request these stories be sent to their organization via fax or e-mail by contacting a member of the Penn State Athletic Communications Staff.

PENN STATE ATHLETIC COMMUNICATIONS OFFICE

The Penn State Athletic Communications Office is located in 101 of the Bryce Jordan Center. The entrance is located off University Drive using the Orange Lot West parking lot.

Official's Stand
* There are no Photo Zones on the South side of the court (benches/scorer's table).
* Four Photo Zone seats are on the North bleachers. Seats are reserved for credentialed photographers on a first-come, first-served basis. You must be seated on the bleacher seat - or directly in front of the bleacher with your back touching. If sitting on the floor, your feet must be tucked underneath you and all bags/equipment must be kept out of play at all times. This is a playable area.
* You may shoot from the mid-level or track as long as you do not block the view of spectators.
* Two Photo Zones are on the East and West sides of the gym. During all regular-season games, photographers have the entire side of the opposite court where Penn State is playing. PSU cheerleaders are required to cheer behind the PSU team and they will switch sides when the team does. Actual Photo Zones are not marked on the floor but photographers are asked to remain behind the white line marked on the floor about 10 feet from the endline. Please keep this area clear of bags/equipment as it is a playable area. Servers have the entire baseline for use.
* Protocol may change slightly for NCAA Championship matches.
* Thank you in advance for your cooperation.
